WALSH WAGES FIGHT AGAINST SECY. MELLON

CLAIMS MELLON IS ENGAGED IN COMMERCE

SHALL STOCK HOLDINGS EXCLUDE MELLON FROM OFFICE?

WALSH CLAIMS MELLON SIGNED A CONTRACT IN ALUMINUM CO. MERGER

By PAUL R. MALLON

(Copyrighted 1929, by United Press)

Washington, April 29—Senator Thomas J. Walsh, conductor of the Teapot Dome Oil investigations, has discovered evidence in a civil suit against the Aluminum Company of America which he believes will have a vital influence on the issue now beebeing fought out in the senate judiciary committee—whether Secretary of Treasury Mellon is engaged in commerce because of his stock holdings and whether this fact should exclude him from office.

Walsh told the United Press today his evidence showed Mellon signed one of the contracts in an aluminum company merger in 1925 while he was secretary of treasury; that he held a dinner attended by all interested parties at his apartment here where the merger was consummated and that he took a trip to Canada to the power site of the Saguenany river, to be operated by the merged companies. Walsh had a photograph made on this trip showing Mellon with Arthur V. Davis, president of the Aluminum company, W. L. Mellon, his brother, the late James B. Duke and a Mr. Allen, associated with Duke.

The evidence, said Walsh, was taken in a suit filed in the New Jersey district court against the Duke estate and the Aluminum company by George D. Haskell, president of the Baush Machine Tool Company, Springfield, Mass.

Haskel contended the merger violated the anti-trust law, injuring him as a consumer of aluminum and asked $15,000,000 damages. He obtained judgment for $8,000,000, but the judgment was later reversed by the circuit court at Philadelphia.

A deposition of Mellon's was introduced in the case as evidence, Walsh added. It shows that the parties who were in the photograph dined at Mellon's apartment here and there agreed on the merger.

Walsh asserts the evidence refuted the claim of Mellon's supporters in congress that mere ownership of stock in a concern does not conflict with the old federal statute that no secretary of treasury shall be directly or indirectly engaged or interested in commerce or trade. The evidence will be laid before the judiciary committee which has held two executive sessions within a week trying to settle the case and today was engaged in a third session.

The lineup in the committee is said to be close. Mellon's friends say 17 committee members now favor the secretary's cause, 6 are against him and four are doubtful. The new Walsh evidence is planned to be used with effect upon the doubtful senators.

At any rate the fight is now assuming more serious aspects, and it undoubtedly will be brought to the floor of the senate for a thorough airing and a vote.

Walsh placed his evidence before the committee in an executive session lasting an hour and a half. No vote was reached on the issue before the committee and adjournment was taken until tomorrow when the discussion will be resumed.

The Montana senator said he had not yet dismissed the possibility of reopening the hearing to go into the new evidence.

Washington, April 30—(UP)—The Mellon case was the absorbing topic of discussion on Capitol hill today, with the house in recess and the senate making slow progress on the Farm Relief bill.

The house will reconvene tomorrow to spend the remainder of the week on four minor farm relief bills. The senate was expected to reach a vote before night on the Norris amendment proposing to authorize restrictions on use of the debenture plan if it causes overproduction.

The amendment is opposed by Senator Caraway, Dem., of Ark., author of the debenture plan who claims it would be unfair and unconstitutional to restrict production of any farm product.

Thompsonville, Ill., April 30.—(U.P.)—Two bandits held up Cashier Burt M. Casteel of the tSate bank today and escaped in a coupe with 19,000. Word was sent to nearby towns to be on the lookout for the bandit car.

WHOOPEE PARTY KNOCKED DOWN CEILING PLASTER

Evanston, Ill., April 30.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Frank Darling wasn't sleeping so well, she complained to police.

"It's because of a whoopee party in the apartment above me," she said. "Will you please send over some officers?"

Forty minutes later—after two patrolmen had been assigned to quell the whoopee party—Mrs. Darling telephoned headquarters again.

"Will you please call those officers in?" she asked. "The party was bad enough without the policemen but now there're knocking all the plaster off my ceiling. And, too, will you send older policemen next time?"

SAYS LUCK HAS BEEN REAL FACTOR

ROBERT MAYNARD HUTCHINS, 30, PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

By BOYD LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Haven, Conn., April 30.—Robert Maynard Hutchins, tall, slim, boyish-faced man who was secretary of the Yale corporation at 23, dean of Yale law school at 28 and now is to be president of the University of Chicago at 30, asserts luck has been the chief factor in his unprecedented educational career.

He modestly claims the decoration the Italian government gave him for bravery as an ambulance driver during the world war was because he was an American—"and most of us got some sort of a cross."

He professes not to know why the Yale corporation chose him as secretary before he was graduated from college. He says he can't account for his appointment as dean of Yale law school soon after his graduation from the school.

His appointment as president of the University of Chicago "stunned" him, he says.

"I can't explain it unless it's simply that the 'breaks' have all been in my favor," he explained modestly in an interview with the United Press today.

Dean Hutchins has no hobbies, his only love is his family—he has a wife and baby daughter. His work is "just a habit," Hutchins says.

He has no outstanding enthusiasms. He doesn't care for athletics, fiction or the theater. He is "interested in the task which he will undertake July 1, but he won't admit that it "thrills" him.

Hutchins is irked by emphasis of his youth.

"My youth, of course, will be a handicap, I expect, but there's nothing I can do about it," he remarked.

The long-legged young man leaned his chair against a window sill and recalled other "jobs" he'd undertaken.

"I waited on table, washed dishes, worked in a factory and organized a cooperative tutoring school," he said. "But I wouldn't advise a student to work as hard as I did. It burns up his energy."

RELIEF AGENCIES IN REHABILITATION TASKS

Atlanta, Ga., April 30.—(U.P.)—Relief agencies bent to rehabilitation tasks in the southeastern tornado stricken zones today, finding that problems of food and shelter for the homeless, and medical assistance to prevent wound infections of the injured were paramount.

The death total reached 53, with the death of two negroes at Statesboro, Ga., from injuries. More than 300 injured remain in hospitals, while 1,000 homeless are still dependent on outside aid.

Storm aid funds were asked by various Red Cross chapters throughout Georgia, as the national organization took over supervision f rehabilitation work.

GEORGE C. HOOVER ADMITTED TO BAR OF SUPREME COURT

Washington, April 29.—(U.P.)—George C. Hoover, 53, of West Branch, Iowa, a first cousin of the president, was admitted to the bar of the supreme court today. He is an attorney in the valuation division of the Interstate Commerce commission.

4 Persons, Including 3 Members of a Family, Shot to Death and Fifth Is Seriously Hurt

GUN BATTLE AT JENNY CREEK, IN KENTUCKY

VICTIMS ARE LEE GIBSON, A HILLMAN, WIFE AND SON AND ANOTHER MAN

WALLACE HANNA KILLED AND HIS BROTHER WAYNE, MAY DIE TOO

Plaintsvilee, Ky., April 30—(UP)—Four persons, including three members of one family, were shot to death and a fifth was seriously wounded in a gun battle at Jenny Creek, in the hills near here last night, according to reports received here today.

The victims were said to have been Lee Gibson, a hillman; his wife, his son and another man known as Wallace Hanna. The latter's brother, Wayne, was wounded so seriously he may die, police were advised.

The killings were said to have climaxed a liquor party.

It was understood that the Hanna and Gibson family quarreled over a quantity of liquor.

The Hannas, it was said, quickly aligned against the Gibsons and shooting became general. Word of the killings was not received here until this morning when Wayne Hanna was brought to the hospital.

Gibson was 45 years old. His wife's name was Cassie and his son was Bernie, 20.

Actual details of the shooting will not be known until the sheriff returns from the scene.

Paintsville, Ky., April 30—(UP)—A gun battle over a quantity of liquor at Green Rock Creek last night resulted in the wounding of the duelists and the killing of four bystanders.

Details of the battle were revealed today when the principals, Wayne Hanna, 22, and a man known as Bennie Sailors were brought to a hospital here.

Two other men, whom Sheriff Adams said were involved, escaped.

Hanna may die.

Those killed were Lee Gibson, 45, a hillman; his wife Cassie, their son, Bernie, 20, and Hanna's brother, Wallace, 12.

Sheriff Adams said Hanna and Sailors began firing after a heated argument over the possession of a jug of moonshine.

The Gibson family and Hanna's young brother, standing nearby, were shot down by the wildly firing duelists before they could scurry to cover.

Wayne Hanna was shot in the left lung and may die. Sailors received an arm wound and was lodged in jail after receiving treatment at the hospital.

Sheriff Adams said no charges will be filed pending outcome of Wayne Hanna's condition.

PASSAGE ON GRAF ZEPPELIN AT $1,200 PER PERSON QUOTED

Washington, April 30.—(U.P.)—Tickets went on sale here today for the first trans-Atlantic air voyage. Headquarters of the American Automobile association offered to book passage on the Graf Zeppelin at $1,200 a person.

WADENA MAN VAINLY TRIES TO OUTWIT THUGS

PAUL PELKY, 56 YEAR OLD LABORER, BEATEN UP BY 2 BANDITS

TAKE HIM FROM HIS ROOM IN MINNEAPOLIS AND THROW HIM INTO RIVER

Minneapolis, April 30—(UP)—Paul Pelky, 56-year-old laborer of Wadena, Minn., lay seriously injured in General hospital today, the result of a vain effort to save his $70 savings from two thugs.

Pelky had worked at manual labor, when he could find it, since January 20, and in that time had saved the $70. Monday night he walked to the north side in search of work and while returning to his room was accosted by the two bandits.

Pelky resisted when they ordered him to "put up his hands" and one of the men slashed him across the throat with a knife. They then dragged him off the road, beat him and threw him into the Mississippi river.

The victim crawled back to shore and a passing motorist took him to the hospital.

RACE WITH DEATH ENDS IN VICTORY FOR TWO SISTERS

Newton, Ia., April 30.—(U.P.)—A race with death, which started in the Mediterranean sea and progressed across the Atlantic to Newton by steamship, airplane, train and motor car, ended in victory today when Mrs. Fred Jasper and Miss Stella McCord arrived and found their father, M. A. McCord, still alive although weak.

EDISON WILLING TO AID SOME YOUNG INVENTOR

OFFERS FREE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP TO WINNER OF QUESTIONNAIRE

YOUTH MAY DEVELOP GENIUS TO CARRY ON WORK OF ELDERLY MAN

Orange, N. J., April 30.—(U.P.)—Somewhere in the United States there is a young man of a scientific turn of mind who some day may carry on the work of Thomas A. Edison. The inventor has started a search for him.

Charles A. Edison, son of the inventor and president of the Edison interests here, last night announced that his father was offering a free college scholarship, consisting of all tuition fees for four years, to the high school or preparatory school male student who submits the best answer to one of his questionnaires.

The statement said in part:

"As the weight of advancing years falls on the great inventor's shoulders, he is seeking a youth of unusual capabilities who perhaps will have the genius to carry on the great work he has so well started. He wants to bring this unusual opportunity and this unusual youth together."

The governor of each state and the commissioners of the District of Columbia will select a candidate, who is to be the best representative of American manhood and who possesses the highest ability in scientific subjects during the school year, 1928-1929, in each commonwealth.

These 49 winners will be given a free trip to the Edison laboratories here, where they will be entertained. Each one will receive a questionnaire prepared personally by Edison, and the one who best answers the questions will receive the scholarship. The winner may select his own technical school.

The names of the state winners must be received by the inventor by July 1. He will return from his winter home in Florida on June 15 and immediately begin work on the questionnaires. The examination will be given here some time in August.

Coolidge Finishes Writing Autobiography for Cosmopolitan

New York, April 30.—(U.P.)—Former President Coolidge has finished writing his autobiography, which is appearing in serial form in the Cosmopolitan magazine, Ray Long, editor, announced today. When the magazine has printed the last of five installments, the autobiography will be published in book form, it was said.

'UNDERSTANDING' HUSBAND AND A 'CHEERFUL' WIFE

Chicago, April 30.—(U.P.)—An "understanding" husband and a "cheerful" wife constitute the ideal marriage union, according to 1,000 men and women who replied to a questionnaire prepared by an "own your home" organization here.

The five most desirable qualities of a wife, as selected by men, are cheerfulness, neatness, common sense, managerial ability and appreciation.

The ideal husband's five most important attributes would be understanding, frankness, willingness to help about the house, a sense of humor and courage.

Only two men listed cooking and sewing as desirable accomplishments of a wife and few mentioned fidelity, beauty or intelligence. Several women demanded that a husband should get along with the neighbors. One asked for a "soul mate" while another asserted her ideal mate would be a man who would be good to a dog and wouldn't peek in the ice box.

MAY DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

POLICE IN SEVERAL EUROPEAN CAPITALS GUARDING AGAINST DISORDER

New York, April 30—(UP)—May Day, the International Labor Day, will be celebrated in many parts of the world tomorrow, with police in several European capitals on guard against disorders.

Paris, Berlin, Warsaw and other cities prepared augmented police forces to prevent demonstrations.

Paris police threatened to arrest all who attempted to parade or hold street celebrations. Police there made 27 precautionary arrests today and deported 26 foreigners, mostly Russians, whom they accused of coming from Moscow to direct French communists in demonstration.

In Warsaw, 2,000 extra police were on hand, while Berlin had a largely augmented force.

The celebration in Britain was expected to be without particular incident. Similarly, in the United States, the observance will be confined to peaceful meetings.

In Spain the general labor union prepared to present a list of demands to the government, asking an eight-hour day, measures to relieve unemployment, and other matters affecting labor.

Chicago's Unofficial 'Gin' Jury Surveys Modern Youth Problem

Chicago, April 30.—(U.P.)—Chicago's unofficial "gin" jury of 12 prominent women reassembled today to survey the problem of modern youth and liquor.

The jury was called to render an unofficial verdict in the trial of Mrs. Jane Liston, charged with contributing to the delinquency of her 15-year-old daughter, Coletta, who shocked a coroner's jury of educators with her grammar school code of "the boy, the girl and the bottle."

Judge Alfred O. Erickson announced his verdict in the Liston case would abide with the verdict of the unofficial jury.

NEW RACKET IS SPRUNG IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 30—(U.P.)—Apparently there is something new in the way of rackets in Chicago—the city where a common greeting is "What's your racket?"

This time the racketeer comes forth with a "heads-I-win-tails-you-lose" proposition for taxpayers, always the "ultimate consumer" in rackets.

A property reassessment has been under way for months, the result of which will be that some taxpayers pay more, others less.

Now the racketeer broaches his proposition:

"We have a sure fire method to reduce your taxes. Sign a contract to give us 50 per cent of the reduction. Our organization is so efficient that we ask no money down and no pay if your taxes are the same or more than last year."

Several Rogers park taxpayers signed; others appealed to city officials.

TAX INCREASED BY LEGISLATURE FROM 2 TO 3 CENTS

ESTIMATED $7,500,000 IN REVENUE TO BE PAID TO STATE THIS YEAR

$9,000,000 OR MORE TO BE PAID IN 1930 AND YEARS THEREAFTER

St. Paul, April 30—(UP)—At midnight tonight Minnesota automobile owners will start to pay 3-cents on each of the 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumed annually in this state.

Under an act passed during the closing days of the 1929 legislature the tax was increased from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, effective May 1.

It was estimated that $7,500,000 in revenue would be paid to the state this year and $9,000,000 or more in 1930 and the years thereafter of which secondary roads will receive one-third under an amendment adopted in the general elections last fall.

Hjalmar Nilsson, chief oil inspector has notified all oil dealers to "take careful inventory of all gasoline on hand May 1."

These inventories will form the basis of collection of the increased tax. Deputies will check the inventories and collect the revenue.

LINDBERGH SAYS AIRPORT SHOULD BE MILE SQUARE

Washington, April 30—(U.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh gave advice to a joint congressional committee here today on how to proceed with the selection of a new airport for the capital city.

Testifying by request of the committee, Lindbergh said the new airport should be a mile square and that if several of them are to be built each should be the same size.

Washington, April 30.—(U.P.)—There are no class A airports in the United States and none to compare with the best ports in Europe, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today told the joint congressional committee choosing a site for an airport at the capital.

MISS ANNE MORROW NOW AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, April 30.—(U.P.)—Miss Anne Spencer Morrow arrived here last night and was expected to remain for several days before continuing on to the Morrow estate in Maine, where her marriage to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh may take place in June.

The daughter of the American ambassador to Mexico was accompanied by her mother and sister Elizabeth. The party was driven immediately to the home of Mrs. Charles Long Cutter, Miss Morrow's aunt, and will remain there during the Cleveland visit.

Mexico City, April 30—(U.P.)—Friends here of Miss Anne Spencer Morrow expect her marriage to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will occur at North Haven, Me., about the middle of June.

United States Ambassador Dwight W Morrow, father of Miss Anne, will leave Mexico City for the United States about June 1, it was understood, and friends of the young woman said they believed the marriage would take place ten days or two weeks afterwards.

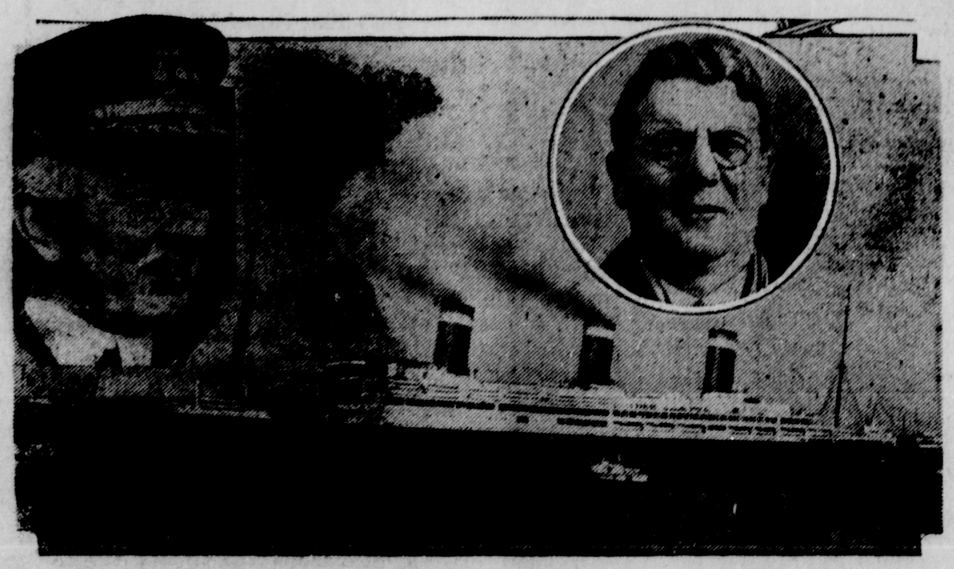

PARKER CRAMER EXPECTS TO FLY TO SWEDEN SOON

Clarion, Pa., April 30.—(U.P.)—Parker Cramer, Arctic flier, expects to make a flight from the United States to Sweden next month, he said in a letter received here by his mother, Mrs. Fanny D. Cramer.

IMITATES SIREN AND IS ARRESTED

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—(U.P.)—When a siren's wail from Joe Donnelly's car forced a police car to the curb here, officers seized him and searched his car for illegal possession of the instrument, but failed to find it. Court examiners discovered it was natural equipment of his throat. Then he was booked for alleged intoxication.

U. S. Men Won't Board Leviathan at Sea

When Captain Cunningham, left, of the Leviathan finds himself inside the twelve-mile limit he is under instructions of Joseph Sheedy, right, vice-president of the present owners of the Leviathan, to dump all the surplus stock of liquor overboard. Customs officials are ready to search the giant liner when she docks, but trusts the crew and passengers to be rid of the surplus by then. Officials of the company were silent on the combined onslaught of Representative LaGuardia of New York and Mrs. Elle J. Bolle, president of National W. C. T. U., and Dr. S. Edgar Nicholson of the Anti-Saloon League, against the liquor policy of the line.

The names of the state winners must be received by the inventor by July 1. He will return from his winter home in Florida on June 15 and immediately begin work on the questionnaires. The examination will be given here some time in August.

Coolidge Finishes Writing Autobiography for Cosmopolitan

New York, April 30.—(U.P.)—Former President Coolidge has finished writing his autobiography, which is appearing in serial form in the Cosmopolitan magazine, Ray Long, editor, announced today. When the magazine has printed the last of five installments, the autobiography will be published in book form, it was said.

'UNDERSTANDING' HUSBAND AND A 'CHEERFUL' WIFE

Chicago, April 30.—(U.P.)—An "understanding" husband and a "cheerful" wife constitute the ideal marriage union, according to 1,000 men and women who replied to a questionnaire prepared by an "own your home" organization here.

The five most desirable qualities of a wife, as selected by men, are cheerfulness, neatness, common sense, managerial ability and appreciation.

The ideal husband's five most important attributes would be understanding, frankness, willingness to help about the house, a sense of humor and courage.

Only two men listed cooking and sewing as desirable accomplishments of a wife and few mentioned fidelity, beauty or intelligence. Several women demanded that a husband should get along with the neighbors. One asked for a "soul mate" while another asserted her ideal mate would be a man who would be good to a dog and wouldn't peek in the ice box.

MAY DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

POLICE IN SEVERAL EUROPEAN CAPITALS GUARDING AGAINST DISORDER

New York, April 30—(UP)—May Day, the International Labor Day, will be celebrated in many parts of the world tomorrow, with police in several European capitals on guard against disorders.

Paris, Berlin, Warsaw and other cities prepared augmented police forces to prevent demonstrations.

Paris police threatened to arrest all who attempted to parade or hold street celebrations. Police there made 27 precautionary arrests today and deported 26 foreigners, mostly Russians, whom they accused of coming from Moscow to direct French communists in demonstration.

In Warsaw, 2,000 extra police were on hand, while Berlin had a largely augmented force.

The celebration in Britain was expected to be without particular incident. Similarly, in the United States, the observance will be confined to peaceful meetings.

In Spain the general labor union prepared to present a list of demands to the government, asking an eight-hour day, measures to relieve unemployment, and other matters affecting labor.

Chicago's Unofficial 'Gin' Jury Surveys Modern Youth Problem

Chicago, April 30.—(U.P.)—Chicago's unofficial "gin" jury of 12 prominent women reassembled today to survey the problem of modern youth and liquor.

The jury was called to render an unofficial verdict in the trial of Mrs. Jane Liston, charged with contributing to the delinquency of her 15-year-old daughter, Coletta, who shocked a coroner's jury of educators with her grammar school code of "the boy, the girl and the bottle."

Judge Alfred O. Erickson announced his verdict in the Liston case would abide with the verdict of the unofficial jury.

NEW RACKET IS SPRUNG IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 30—(U.P.)—Apparently there is something new in the way of rackets in Chicago—the city where a common greeting is "What's your racket?"

This time the racketeer comes forth with a "heads-I-win-tails-you-lose" proposition for taxpayers, always the "ultimate consumer" in rackets.

A property reassessment has been under way for months, the result of which will be that some taxpayers pay more, others less.

Now the racketeer broaches his proposition:

"We have a sure fire method to reduce your taxes. Sign a contract to give us 50 per cent of the reduction. Our organization is so efficient that we ask no money down and no pay if your taxes are the same or more than last year."

Several Rogers park taxpayers signed; others appealed to city officials.

TAX INCREASED BY LEGISLATURE FROM 2 TO 3 CENTS

ESTIMATED $7,500,000 IN REVENUE TO BE PAID TO STATE THIS YEAR

$9,000,000 OR MORE TO BE PAID IN 1930 AND YEARS THEREAFTER

St. Paul, April 30—(UP)—At midnight tonight Minnesota automobile owners will start to pay 3-cents on each of the 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumed annually in this state.

Under an act passed during the closing days of the 1929 legislature the tax was increased from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, effective May 1.

It was estimated that $7,500,000 in revenue would be paid to the state this year and $9,000,000 or more in 1930 and the years thereafter of which secondary roads will receive one-third under an amendment adopted in the general elections last fall.

Hjalmar Nilsson, chief oil inspector has notified all oil dealers to "take careful inventory of all gasoline on hand May 1."

These inventories will form the basis of collection of the increased tax. Deputies will check the inventories and collect the revenue.

LINDBERGH SAYS AIRPORT SHOULD BE MILE SQUARE

Washington, April 30—(U.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh gave advice to a joint congressional committee here today on how to proceed with the selection of a new airport for the capital city.

Testifying by request of the committee, Lindbergh said the new airport should be a mile square and that if several of them are to be built each should be the same size.

Washington, April 30.—(U.P.)—There are no class A airports in the United States and none to compare with the best ports in Europe, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today told the joint congressional committee choosing a site for an airport at the capital.

MISS ANNE MORROW NOW AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, April 30.—(U.P.)—Miss Anne Spencer Morrow arrived here last night and was expected to remain for several days before continuing on to the Morrow estate in Maine, where her marriage to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh may take place in June.

The daughter of the American ambassador to Mexico was accompanied by her mother and sister Elizabeth. The party was driven immediately to the home of Mrs. Charles Long Cutter, Miss Morrow's aunt, and will remain there during the Cleveland visit.

Mexico City, April 30—(U.P.)—Friends here of Miss Anne Spencer Morrow expect her marriage to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will occur at North Haven, Me., about the middle of June.

United States Ambassador Dwight W Morrow, father of Miss Anne, will leave Mexico City for the United States about June 1, it was understood, and friends of the young woman said they believed the marriage would take place ten days or two weeks afterwards.

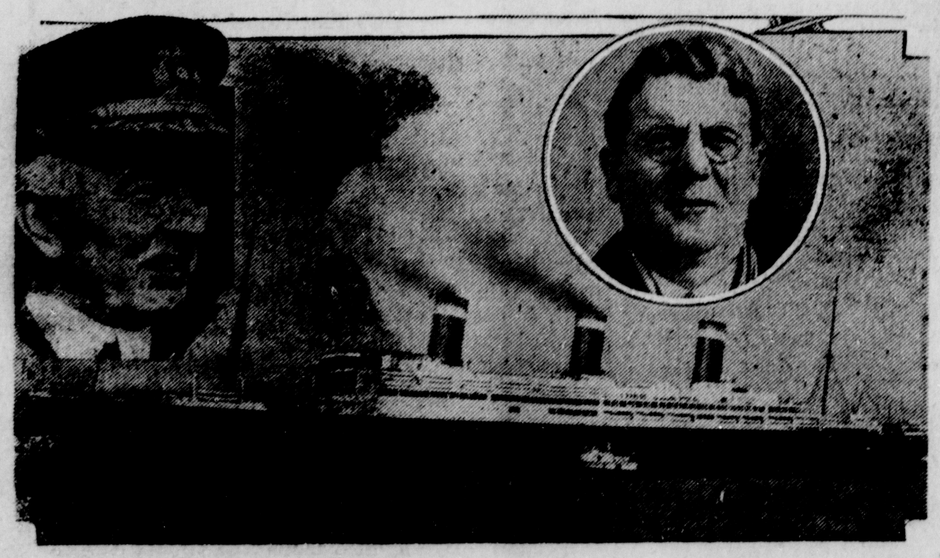

PARKER CRAMER EXPECTS TO FLY TO SWEDEN SOON

Clarion, Pa., April 30.—(U.P.)—Parker Cramer, Arctic flier, expects to make a flight from the United States to Sweden next month, he said in a letter received here by his mother, Mrs. Fanny D. Cramer.

IMITATES SIREN AND IS ARRESTED

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—(U.P.)—When a siren's wail from Joe Donnelly's car forced a police car to the curb here, officers seized him and searched his car for illegal possession of the instrument, but failed to find it. Court examiners discovered it was natural equipment of his throat. Then he was booked for alleged intoxication.

U. S. Men Won't Board Leviathan at Sea

When Captain Cunningham, left, of the Leviathan finds himself inside the twelve-mile limit he is under instructions of Joseph Sheedy, right, vice-president of the present owners of the Leviathan, to dump all the surplus stock of liquor overboard. Customs officials are ready to search the giant liner when she docks, but trusts the crew and passengers to be rid of the surplus by then. Officials of the company were silent on the combined onslaught of Representative LaGuardia of New York and Mrs. Elle J. Bolle, president of National W. C. T. U., and Dr. S. Edgar Nicholson of the Anti-Saloon League, against the liquor policy of the line.

Gary Cooper Fan Mail Leader

According to fan mail statistics, Gary Cooper is fast becoming one of the most popular stars in the movies. Ever since his appearance in "Lilac Time" and "The Legion of the Condemned," his mail from admirers has grown to unusual proportions, ranking him as one of the leaders. He will have the leading male romantic role with Lupe Velez and Louis Wolheim in the newest Paramount flaming-love film of pioneer days, "Wolf Song," which is coming to the Lyceum theatre for a three day run beginning Wednesday.

St. Francis Guild

St. Francis Guild will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Guild hall. Those entertaining are Mrs. E. Kehoe, Mrs. Ed. Murphy, Mrs. McDonnell, Mrs. Harry O'Brien, Mrs. Frank Peters, Mrs. Geo. Edwards, Mrs. S. Quinn, and Mrs. S. Perwall. A large attendance is urged. Visitors are cordially invited.

To Entertain Night Class

Ladies of the D. A. R. will entertain night school students at the home of Mrs. J. M. Hayes, 1022 S. 7th street this evening. Coffee, cake and sandwiches will be served. Preceding the reception a short program will be held at night school.

Miss Louise Soneson Entertains

Miss Louise Soneson entertained four of her girl ffiends last evening in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in playing games, and a birthday luncheon was served by Mrs. Soneson.

Brain of Man and Monkey

Man's brain attains its maximum capacity at thirty, but a monkey's brain reaches its greatest weight between the ages of two and three, and after that remains stationary.

Attorney Hilding Swanson has returned from Fergus Falls and New York Mills where he has been on business. He also attended the ceremonies of the laying of the corner stone of the new court house at Aitkin.

The arrival of Mrs. E. O. Westerlund at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Westerlund last evening caused quite a bit of joy as her coming was unknown, and came as a surprise. Accompanying her were her two children, Bobby and June. The trip was made by car from their home in Cicago.

BIRD'S ROOFS

with
Bird's Twin Shingles

You have probably delayed repairing that old worn-out, weather-beaten roof because you just didn't want to go through the trouble of ripping off the old shingles. You know that it would be a dirty, messy job, littering up your lawns and garden plots with splinters, nails and broken shingles.

Here's good news! You can cover your home without going through all that unnecessary work. Save the time and money you would spend tearing up the old shingles. Lay Bird's Twins or Double Twins right over your present worn-out roof!

Bird's Twin Shingles, laid over your old shingles, will make a durable, weather-proof and waterproof double roof for your home that will protect you from rain, snow, and from flying sparks.

Bird's Twin Shingles are made by Bird & Son, inc. (Est. 1795), manufacturers of Bird's Shingle Design Roofing, Art-Craft Roofing, Paroid Roofing, Neponset Black Building Paper, Bird's Insulating Blanket and Neponset Board. There's a Bird product for every sort of building!

We are headquarters for Bird's roofings, building papers and wall board.

Miss Elizabeth Johnstone Presents Class of Older Pupils in Recital

GIVE WORTHWHILE PROGRAM

Each Player Gives Interesting Description of Numbers as Played

Miss Elizabeth Johnstone presented her class of older pupils in a piano recital at her home last Friday evening. These young people, of junior high school age, gave a most worthwhile program to the large group of appreciative guests assembled. Each player announced his or her numbers, giving an interesting description of each, or remarks concerning the composers.

The duo and the eight hand pieces were very well done, showing a clear understanding of the technique of ensemble work. The girls at the second piano deserve special mention for their intelligent work along this line.

The one boy of this class claimed immediate attention by his thoughtful playing and very intelligent application of the principles of finger movement, phrasing and expression being taught him.

Some did especially good work in bringing out the melody of their pieces, sone in clear, even broken chords, some in light delicate passages, some in expressing the particular spirit of descriptive pieces. Gracefulness, ease and clear playing were characteristic of the whole program.

Pieces which were especially attractive were "The Organist," "The Wavelet," "Sleep, Baby Sleep," "Sonatine," "Oh, Sun Flower Bright," "Japanese Moonlight," "Concert Study," "Lullaby" and "Grasshoppers."

After the recital frappe was served. Those assisting were members of the Music Appreciation club, Mary Hoffman, Barbara Zanffe, Flora Elder and Bernice Steinfeldt.

The complete program follows:

March Militaire ..... Mathilde Bilbro
Jean Cibuzar, First Piano — Helen Stout, Second Piano

The One Armed Man, Organist, Kitchen Maid ..... Florence Maxim
Malvin Newman

On the Water, Slumber Song ..... Carl Reinecke

SHOOTS AND WOUNDS SELF WHILE AT MASS IN CATHEDRAL

San Antonio, Texas, April 29.—(UP)—Dozens of worshipers were startled when Donacio Limon, 26, shot and probably fatally wounded himself in San Fernando Cathedral here this morning during early mass.

Limon was kneeling as though in prayer when he fired the bullet which passed through his left chest near the heart. He was rushed to a hospital where doctors said he had a fighting chance to live.

San Fernando is the largest cathedral in the city.

D. B. C. GIRL MADE CLERK OF COURT

The new Clerk of Court of Ransom County is Mabel Geisler, a graduate of Dakota Business College, Fargo. Wherever they go, D. B. C. girls make good as a result of their ACTUAL BUSINESS training (copyrighted — unobtainable elsewhere.) Clara Larsgaard has been advanced to Asst. Cashier, Security State Bank, Noonan, with two raises in her first year; Alma Blumer has a similar post with Farmers Bank, Leonard.

"Follow the $ucce$$ful" May 1-8. Advance faster with summer class. Get work sooner. Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo.

Oh boy what a happy thought, Camp Clearwater opens June 23. Just think of that fine swimming beach, the games and boating with your pals, and then rush to headquarters with your registration so that you get in on this wonderful summer paradise of fun. A complete camp bulletin and registration blank will be mailed to every scout in the near future. But you do not need to wait for them. Register now and insure yourself a place.

Camp Clearwater announces its camp staff at this time with the exception of the positions of junior officers at the camp, which positions will be announced later.

S. C. Bakken, field scout executive for the area will be directing the camp. Mr. Bakken has had experience as director in four council camps in the past six years and is well qualified to put on a splendid camp. Mr. Bakken is also a field examiner in the American Red Cross life saving corps which doubly assures the safety of the water front. In addition to having served as camp director for so many years, Mr. Bakken has completed several camp leadership training courses especially put on for leaders in the northwest.

Gordon Cross, of Staples, will again be with us this year as the assistant camp director and director of the water front. Mr. Cross has had several years experience in scout camps and is a qualified Red Cross life saving expert and swimmer. We are quite sure that the water front will be in splendid hands with the camp director and assistant, both on duty at the water front.

Eagle Scout Sherman Pease of Minneapolis will be with us this year as a new member of the staff in the capacity of quartermaster. Eagle Scout Pease has made a splendid record in Minneapolis scouting and will be a real asset to our camp.

Will we have plenty to eat in camp. We will have with us again no other than Mrs. Nels Nelson for the chef. You boys all know what wonderful meals she can cook. That in itself should be enough to bring you to camp.

The daily program is designed to give the boy ample free time that he can use as he sees fit.

The tentative program is as follows:

6:30 A. M.—First call.
6:40—Reveille, morning dip.
7—Flag raising.
7:10—Breakfast.
8—Policing camp.
8:50—Sick call.
9—Construction and pioneering—Scoutcraft instruction.
10:30—Beginners swimming period.
11—Swimming and life saving.
11:30—Recall.
12—Inspection.
12:15 P. M. — Mess and mail delivery.
1—Rest hour. Trading post opens.
2—Afternoon hikes, games, boating etc., test passing.
4—Afternoon swim.
4:45—Recall. Free time.
6—Supper.
7—Retreat followed by games, boating etc.
8—Campfire, stunts etc.
9:20—Call to quarters.
9:30—Taps.

Register now and insure yourself a place. First camp, June 23-30; second camp, June 30 to July 7; third camp, July 7-14; fourth camp, July 14-21.

Register for one or more periods. Registration fee $6.00 per week. One dollar down with your registration reserves you a place at this summer paradise. The fee does not include transportation to the camp.

Are you all set for the Roundup at St. Cloud May 10-11? Remember the district preliminaries, Brainerd district, Lum Park Saturday, May 4, 7:30 P. M., all exhibits to be in place by 7 P. M.

Range district Roundup Saturday, April 27 at the Crosby Armory. The Roundup begins at 7:30 P. M. sharp. All exhibits to be in place by 7 P. M. The public is urged to be present to see what the boys can really do. This will be an opportunity to see scouting at its best. Do not fail to be there.

Poster Contest

Something additional for the Roundup. Any scout making a poster for the final Roundup at St. Cloud May 10 and 11 should send it to Scout headquarters so they will arrive not later than May 4. These posters will be used to advertise the Roundup and the two best ones will be judged and added to the points for the handicraft part of the Roundup. This will be only at the final Roundup. Do them at once and send them in. They can be drawn or made up ones, and they will be featured in the exhibits. Put your name and troop number and town on each one.

State Fair Troop

There will be an eight day camp for rural Scouts at the State Fair from August 31 to September 7. We here in the central Minnesota area will be allowed three Scouts in this troop, which is the maximum of any council, and we hope to send these boys down. Who will they be? Well, you rural scouts ought to know. Several requirements will have to me met. These will be announced shortly.

Jamboree Gift

Sir Robert Baden Powell is the founder of Scouting. This summer in England they will celebrate the 21st birthday of World Scouting with a great jamboree of Scouts from all over the world.

The United States are sending over 1,500 Scouts and leaders. Central Minnesota unfortunately will not be represented, but there is something our area can do. With the representatives of the United States will go a gift for Sir Robert (who has served scouting without pay and is not a rich man) from America. Every Scout can have his part in that gift, by contributing two cents each at their next meeting. Do this at once and send it in to Scout headquarters at St. Cloud so we may be represented in some small way at the Jamboree. Do it now.

Youngest President

At 30 years of age Robert Maynard Hutchins, dean of the Yale Law School, has been named president of the University of Chicago. When he takes office on July 1st Hutchins will be the youngest head of a major university in the United States.

Your MODEL T FORD is still a good car

THE Model T Ford led the motor industry for twenty years because of its sturdy worth, reliability and economy. Those same reasons continue to make it a good car.

As a matter of fact, nearly one-fourth of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords. Millions of them can be driven two, three and even five more years with reasonable care and proper replacements. Figures show that the average life is seven years.

Don't sacrifice your Model T, therefore, but take it to the Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in A1 shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

Your MODEL T FORD is still a good car

THE Model T Ford led the motor industry for twenty years because of its sturdy worth, reliability and economy. Those same reasons continue to make it a good car.

As a matter of fact, nearly one-fourth of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords. Millions of them can be driven two, three and even five more years with reasonable care and proper replacements. Figures show that the average life is seven years.

Don't sacrifice your Model T, therefore, but take it to the Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in A1 shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes relined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

MISSION AND NEEDS OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY

THERE came to our desk a pamphlet entitled "The Mission and the Needs of the United States Navy," a most interesting collection of articles and addresses reprinted from the United States Naval Institute Proceedings, Special Information Number, October, 1928, which in its 80 pages carries authoritative articles and beautiful pictures.

William Howard Gardiner, President of the Navy League of the United States, discusses "Elements and Outlook of American Sea-Power" and quotes frequently from Admiral Mahan's immortal book, "The Influence of Sea-Power upon History."

"Sea-power," says Mr. Gardiner, "is merely the expressed ability of a people to conduct and to control both the mercantile and martial transportation, by sea or overseas, of ideas, persons and materials, more or less extensively both in war and in peace. It arises from the desires of peoples to have products from diverse lands exchanged. The conducting of such exchanges calls commensurate 'shipping power' into being and leads to overseas interests. Safeguarding and fostering these, policing the seas in peace, and controlling the seas in war, call for naval power. Thus maritime trade is the parent of shipping power; shipping power is the parent of naval power; and these two together are the principal constituents of sea-power proper. It should be realized, however, that all means of transporting ideas, persons and materials overseas, when so used, are constituents of sea-power, whether they be ships, cables, aircraft, or radio communications."

Nations with no land boundaries to defend are particularly interested in expansion of sea-power. Mr. Gardiner considers America as a great, mid-oceanic island, rather than a self-sufficient continent.

"For not only are our economic, political, and all other relations with other parts of the world immutably overseas matters—involving, of necessity, some form of sea-power—but we are three thousand miles from Europe, four thousand from Asia, and fifteen hundred from South America. Such a central, non-regional position has its obvious advantages for trade with all parts of the world, although long range in every direction. But it may necessitate the exercise transoceanically of whatever influences may be needed to prevent regional powers from unduly blanketing their respective continental backgrounds.'

The growth of our manufacturing and other industries, bringing with it the growth in foreign trade, necessitates attention be paid our sea-power. America has always sought the open door in trading.

We have wondered of the attitude of the navy toward peace, as expressed by an authority and Rear Admiral Frank H. Schofield of the U. S. Navy says:

"The principal point of difference between the Navy and its attitude toward peace and the honest pacifist and his attitude toward peace is one of method. The navy believes that peace with justice can best be attained through trusting in the integrity of intention of our own country. The pacifist desires to see us weak, believing that this weakness will guarantee peace. The naval officer believes in seeing us strong, believing that strength is the best guardian of peace, and that since in international affairs we must trust some one, we can best trust the government of the United States."

"The Navy believes that to be strong is not to be warlike, but rather to be effective defenders of righteous peace. It believes, in the words of former President Coolidge, that 'after all, peace is a spiritual attainment. We can set up material safeguards like fortifications and armaments, which will afford us much protection against attack, but unless we cultivate sentiments of friendship and understanding they are no guarantees of peace.' This idea dominates all the international acts of the Navy during the period of peace."

America never needed a Navy for prestige. Officers and men regard the Navy in the light of a service belonging to the public. The naval profession regards the whole organization and material as a public institution owned and operated for the public. It desires that the public judge our Navy by its motives and by its acts interpreted on the background of those motives.

In writing of "Training in the Navy," Rear Admiral R. H. Leigh, U. S. Navy, says that "no single industry calls for so wide a variety of skilled service, and no industry is called upon each year to replace so large a percentage of its trained men. Each year we must recruit and train an average of nearly 20,000 men. They must not only be trained to perform the work of their naval trade, but must receive thorough training in seamanship. They must also be trained in military tactics, for naval personnel must be able to operate ashore in landing parties. Most of these recruits are under 19 years of age, few of them have a trade in civil life and fewer still have ever been at sea on any kind of ship. They come to the Navy from every state of the Union, with little or no similar experience that helps them in learning their new tasks."

"How can the Navy assimilate these untried thousands each year, and still keep up to the minute with the heavy operating schedule required to keep ships at the highest efficiency? You may be sure that it does not occur through accident, nor through any gratuitous transformation of untrained men into intelligent and effective human factors in the naval establishment. The answer to the problem is training—systematic training that begins on the first day a man enters the service and ends on the day he leaves it."

Last year the then Secretary of the Navy Wilbur passed through Brainerd and spoke to Rotarians and others assembled at the depot. He paid a high tribute to the sailors recruited in the Mississippi valley area.

The hydrographic office, a service of security for mariners and aviators, is covered in an article by Captain Clarence S. Kempff and Commander Frank H. Roberts of the U. S. Navy. The hydrographic office has always been administered in Washington, D. C. As it primarily deals with mariners, Congress has from time to time instituted the branch hydrographic offices now located in many large coastal and inland lake cities.

EVODIA CARLSON, LOIS WHITE AND WM. McCLENAHAN WIN HIGH HONORS

SQUAD 'A' WINS FOOTBALL GAME

SCHUETY MAKES 55 YARD RUN FOR ONLY SCORE OF GAME

After a week of strenuous practice Coach Kasch's football proteges demonstrated their ability Friday afternoon in a game at the Sixth street grounds, which the A group won 6-0. The squad was divided into two equal groups of which the A squad sported the blue jerseys and the B squad wore the gray. Although many of the players were without experience the teams were evenly matched and found difficulty in gaining much ground, the greatest fault being the poor blocking. The feature of the game was Schuety's run of 55 yards for the only score. The new ruling on fumbles this year had a direct bearing on the outcome of the game. The rule states that a fumble is dead at the point of recovery and this fact prevented the B team from scoring two touchdowns. The touchdowns will have to be earned in the future and fewer last minute rallies will be made.

MISS MICHAEL TALKS ON 'THE CITY'S POOR'

During the latter part of the fourth period, Thursday, the seniors in the city hall were pleasantly surprised by an unexpected assembly call, which summoned them to listen to a very interesting talk, by Miss Michael, the city nurse of Brainerd.

Her subject was "The City's Poor" and she began by defining and explaining the two ways of caring for the poor, the county and the township methods. During the course of her review, she pointed out several advantages and disadvantages of each method, so that when the students are old enough, they may vote on this question intelligently.

Several important statistics were given as regarding the length of time required to establish residence, the number of people, approximately, dependent on this city, how the city gets its extra funds from the county, and so forth.

Miss Michael helped make it more clear in the minds of the young people, what a great problem, this really is. Vivid examples were given of some of the cases, right here in our city, instances of which we probably would never have otherwise heard.

The students went away with a more sympathetic understanding of the question, and with plenty of material for thought, to last a long time. These same young people, when they reach the voting age, will know more about this important question, and will be much more useful citizens because of this.

Later, Miss Michael gave a brief address to those, who hope to become nurses, among the senior girls. The requirements of a nurse, the different branches open to nurses, several places highly recommended for this sort of training, and some idea of the cost and other things one has to contend with, constituted the main features of this little address. The girls, as well as the whole senior class in the previous talk, were very much interested, and warmly appreciated Miss Michael's coming.

YE EDITOR

Our editor-in-chief has been the victim of inadvertence in these columns recently. No one of us was more conscientious than he in attending round table discussions and other sessions at the N. S. P. A. convention. Yet no mention of this was made in these columns for reasons which may seem to be but excuses now. No one of us gave a better speech before the assembly than he, yet the account of this talk was crowded out. All we can do now is to assure him that such omissions were not intentional. Things like that happen and no one can say why. Please overlook these errors, Dick, and remember that we are all well aware of the fact that you are planning an excellent annual for next year—a plan which we know you will put into execution.

Associate Editors.

TEN OTHERS WIN SCHOLASTIC HONORS IN ANNUAL SELECTIONS

Tradition in all schools of secondary or collegiate rank demands that [illegible] in the school who stand highest in [illegible] ratings shall be given special honors [illegible] that these people be called the valedictorian and the salutatorian. It chances, at times, that these students are narrow in their outlook and have been so absorbed in their pursuit of knowledge that they have neglected the other phases of school life. Of that type are the prodigies who disappoint the world because they have never taken an active part in the work of the world.

This year the three thus honored are well-rounded individuals who have been active in various lines of school work. Evodia Carlson, valedictorian, is an exceedingly fine student, always prepared and with the type of mind that does much more than merely memorize. She is interested in club affairs and is helpful at all times in the carrying out of necessary activities, whether it be music or typing or cooking. In addition, she was chosen the best all around senior girl.

The salutatorian honors this year are divided. It was impossible to choose which of two were second, so Lois White, who comes to us after three years in Little Falls, and William McClenahan, share the second place. Both of these students are interested in many other phases of school work than just the scholastic. Lois is preparing much of the work for the annual, and is a frequent contributor to the weekly paper. William is editor of the annual, and prominent in dramatics and musical lines. He, too, was selected for the Josten citizenship award as the most valuable senior boy. We hope the future holds many opportunities for service for those three students.

Next in line in senior scholastic honors are the following, who have done consistently good work for four years, and rank highest in the class:

Edith Heald
Hazel Fallquist
Katherine Hagberg
Verona Trask
Dorothy Fox
Helen Bane
Lena Schone
Lucille Caughey
Helen Bakkela
Carl Zapffe

To all of these we offer our congratulations, and trust that their success in high school is a prophecy of what the future has in store for them.

PHYSICS CLASSES TOUR BRAINERD SHOPS WED.

The Northern Pacific shops in Brainerd were visited by the Physics class under the leadership of Mr. La Meter, last Wednesday morning. Mr. McKinley, a foreman in the shops took charge of the group and piloted them through the huge blacksmith shop, the round house, the power plant—in fact all the places of interest that the shops offer to the visitor.

The class is very grateful to Mr. McKinley for assisting them in this tour. Its members feel that they have learned much as a result of their trip.

PLAYERS NEAR FINALS IN ANNUAL TOURNEY

The last of the girls first-round games of tennis were finished Monday, when Dorothy Kinney and Doris Geist played. These sets were the most interesting of any of the former ones, as the girls were about equally matched, but Doris came out on top with the sets 7-5 for Doris, 6-3 for Dorothy, and 7-5 for Doris.

In the semi-finals, Doris Geist defeated Helen Sheets—the sets 6-0 and 6-0, and Alice Nolan beat Helen Bane with the scores 6-2 and 6-1.

The boys tournament is in full swing now, too. Six sets have been played and the rest will probably be finished this week. The results thus far are: Ross Olmsted and Warren Golemboske, 6-2 in favor of Ross, Dickie Ebert and Al Trommald, 6-1 in favor of Al; Gay Kinney and George McCaffrey, 6-0 in favor of George; Zane Smith and John Chadbourne, 6-2 in favor of John; Don Geist and LeRoy Wyett, 6-0 in favor of Don; David Weber and Ralph Anderson, 6-1 in favor of Ralph; and Roger Kleven and Hugh McCaffrey, 6-2 in favor of Roger.

FRENCH CLUB GIVEN MUSICAL SELECTIONS

French club meeting was held last Monday at the City Hall. The meeting did not start on time which is noted as being a French custom. Business was brought up and a financial statement was given which showed that the club was a little ahead, in money matters at least.

Musical selections were given by Kathryn Sheets and Almira Christenson in a duet. Victor Burgoise played a selection on his violin accompanied by Katherine Allbright. Evelyn Fink and Ethel Finne sang a duet with Ethel playing the piano. Mildred Prentice gave two very humorous readings.

After the program the members sang songs and talked after which a light lunch was served which consisted of potato salad, sandwiches, cake and lemonade.

HISTORY STUDENTS TO REPRESENT SENATORS

At the last meeting of the Alhermodhiscle club an entirely new proposition was put up to the students. The president, Stuart Patterson, suggested that the club, at its next meetings act as the United States senate during its special session called by President Hoover for farm relief. The suggestion was put in the form of a motion which was carried unanimously.

Stuart then went farther to say that each student should represent some senator in congress. "You would then" continued Stuart, "be for or against the bill according to the senator you picked and give your arguments accordingly.

This innovation will be carried out in the meetings of the Alhermodhiscle club until the special session ends.

VODVIL IN READINESS FOR SHOWING FRIDAY

This week, on Friday at the U. C. T. hall, the Brainonian benefit will be given—an evening of thorough enjoyment is offered, varied enough to suit every taste. Those who have attended previous exhibitions know that there is always something new in surprises, something different to chuckle over, something more to think about. This year will prove no exception, for the different groups directing the performance have been working hard to get everything in readiness.

Miss Olson and Miss Mathis are preparing a humorous one act play entitled "Sauce for the Goslings," in which Grandma shows up the children.

Mr. La Meter is working hard with Coontown's classiest and cleverest to give the latest in vocal and instrumental effects, and his ebony hued minstrels will keep you shouting.

Mr. Eiden and Miss Tornstrom have a vaudeville program that rivals the artists at the State and Minnesota. You can't afford to miss it. Admission is only 25c and 35c—pay at the door. Come early to avoid the rush. The U. C. T. hall has a limited capacity. Come early to get a seat.

Biology Classes Enjoy Field Trips Last Week

This balmy spring air of the last week has certainly been made use of by the Biology students when each class took a field trip on different days of the week. The trips were taken to enable the students to become familiar with birds, plants and other wild life. They were carried on under Miss Laipple's tutelage. She took the pupils out behind the hospital and along the river bank.

Before starting each student was supplied with pencil and paper and binoculars to the few who had been fortunate enough to obtain them for the trip. The paper and pencil were used to make a note of anything each person saw. Among the things of interest which they noted were a chipping sparrow, cow, gopher along with many grasses and mosses.

In the near future a field trip will be taken by the Biology students to note various birds alone.

W.C.T.U. ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Local judges of the essay contest sponsored by the W. C. T. U. have assigned honors to several members of this high school. First and second awards were given in several classes, and first, second and third awards were bestowed in the other divisions as follows:

Freshmen:
1. Barbara Zapffe.
2. Harold Strickler.
3. Dwight Curo and Clara Grimsted.

Sophomores:
1. Alice Nolan.
2. Jean Cass.

Juniors:
1. Claude Holden.
2. Evelyn Grimsted.
3. Frances Butcher.

Seniors:
1. Edith Heald.
2. Hazel Fallquist.
3. Guy Hawkins.

Each winner received a small financial reward. The four firsts will be sent in to the state department to enter into competition with others from various towns in Minnesota.

MOTHERS' BANQUET PROVES SUCCESS FOR TRI-HI GIRLS

MRS. PATTERSON GIVES ADDRESS ON "RELATION OF MOTHER AND DAUGHTER"

On Thursday evening, April 25th, members of the Tri-Hi served a banquet for their mothers or substitute mothers. The decorations were for the most part blue and gold with bowls of iris serving as center pieces for each table. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist congregation in the parlors of that church. The delicious menu consisted of meat loaf, escalloped potatoes, rutabagas, banana salad, coffee, and apple pie. After the repast the girls each introduced the guest they had brought. Roberta Crawford, president, acted as toastmaster, Louise Clausen gave the welcoming address which was responded to by Mrs. Heald. Two very appropriate piano-logues, "Grandma" and "Dear Little Mother of Mine" were given by Alice Peterson, accompanied by Miss Olson, which were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Carahaw, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of Minneapolis and speaker of the evening could not be there but Mrs. Patterson, of the Presbyterian church, very kindly took her place and gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the "Relation of Mother and Daughter." As the conclusion of the program Dorothy Kinney and Helen Sheets offered a vocal duet entitled "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Chemistry Classes Visit Pump House Tuesday

Since last September Mr. La Meter's chemistry classes have been anticipating several short expeditions to the working plants of this city. Last Tuesday, 17 people from the seventh period class crowded into two cars owned by Clarence Dutkowski and George Weideman and made their first trip to the pump house. Mr. McQuillen's kindnes in showing the students the process of pumping water and forcing it into the city mains was much appreciated. An interesting fact observed was that when the men were working in the reservoirs they were unable to make themselves heard on account of the numerous echoes and were therefore obliged to speak in whispers.

Thursday the same class went to the paper mill where they observed everything from the pulp grinding to the finished product. Several of the girls emerged with treasured souvenirs: Paper Made in Brainerd.

On Friday the fifth period class made the same expedition.

DR. OSGOOD TO GIVE COMMENCEMENT SPEECH

Commencement exercises for the class of 1929 will be held May 31 at the Park theatre with Dr. Philips Osgood, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Minneapolis, as the speaker. Rev. N. P. Olmsted will deliver the Baccalaureate address, Sunday, May 19.

The class of 1929 is composed of 111 members which make this group the second largest in the history of the high school. Officers of this class are:

President—Malcolm Ellison.
Vice President—Carl Zapffe, Jr.
Secretary—Donald Geist.
Treasurer—Katherine Hagberg.

BRAINERD HIGH SCHOOL WEEK BY WEEK

Apologies to O. O. McIntyre

Just a few impressions jotted down. Ross Olmsted rushing the season by going around in shirt sleeves. Seniors who go from the Court House to the City Hall every other period and come back for those in between. The old fashioned "hello" seems to be taking the place of the more handy "Hi". Surprising how many students walk on the sidewalks when asked to keep off the grass. The senior who looks like a freshman, and talks like one. Almost time for those funny little red hats to go out of style, but they still wear them. Four foot freshmen with A averages. What ever becomes of all the books advertised as lost? Physics students running to class in order to get a seat. Loiter and you sit on the floor. What has happened to the Eversharp pencil craze, everybody seems to be using wooden pencils, except me.

EVODIA CARLSON, LOIS WHITE AND WM. McCLENAHAN WIN HIGH HONORS

SQUAD 'A' WINS FOOTBALL GAME

SCHUETY MAKES 55 YARD RUN FOR ONLY SCORE OF GAME

After a week of strenuous practice Coach Kasch's football proteges demonstrated their ability Friday afternoon in a game at the Sixth street grounds, which the A group won 6-0. The squad was divided into two equal groups of which the A squad sported the blue jerseys and the B squad wore the gray. Although many of the players were without experience the teams were evenly matched and found difficulty in gaining much ground, the greatest fault being the poor blocking. The feature of the game was Schuety's run of 55 yards for the only score. The new ruling on fumbles this year had a direct bearing on the outcome of the game. The rule states that a fumble is dead at the point of recovery and this fact prevented the B team from scoring two touchdowns. The touchdowns will have to be earned in the future and fewer last minute rallies will be made.

MISS MICHAEL TALKS ON 'THE CITY'S POOR'

During the latter part of the fourth period, Thursday, the seniors in the city hall were pleasantly surprised by an unexpected assembly call, which summoned them to listen to a very interesting talk, by Miss Michael, the city nurse of Brainerd.

Her subject was "The City's Poor" and she began by defining and explaining the two ways of caring for the poor, the county and the township methods. During the course of her review, she pointed out several advantages and disadvantages of each method, so that when the students are old enough, they may vote on this question intelligently.

Several important statistics were given as regarding the length off time required to establish residence, the number of people, approximately, dependent on this city, how the city gets its extra funds from the county, and so forth.

Miss Michael helped make it more clear in the minds of the young people, what a great problem, this really is. Vivid examples were given of some of the cases, right here in our city, instances of which we probably would never have otherwise heard.

The students went away with a more sympathetic understanding of the question, and with plenty of material for thought, to last a long time. These same young people, when they reach the voting age, will know more about this important question, and will be much more useful citizens because of this.

Later, Miss Michael gave a brief address to those, who hope to become nurses, among the senior girls. The requirements of a nurse, the different branches open to nurses, several places highly recommended for this sort of training, and some idea of the cost and other things one has to contend with, constituted the main features of this little address. The girls, as well as the whole senior class ,in the previous talk, were very much interested, and warmly appreciated Miss Michael's coming.

YE EDITOR

Our editor-in-chief has been the victim of inadvertence in these columns recently. No one of us was more conscientious than he in attending round table discussions and other sessions at the N. S. P. A. convention. Yet no mention of this was made in these columns for reasons which may seem to be but excuses now. No one of us gave a better speech before the assembly than he, yet the account of this talk was crowded out. All we can do now is to assure him that such omissions were not intentional. Things like that happen and no one can say why. Please overlook these errors, Dick, and remember that we are all well aware of the fact that you are planning an excellent annual for next year—a plan which we know you will put into execution.

TEN OTHERS WIN SCHOLASTIC HONORS IN ANNUAL SELECTIONS

Tradition in all schools of secondary or collegiate rank demands that the two students in the school who stand highest in scholastic rating shall be given special honors and that these people be called the valedictorian and the salutatorian. It chances, at times, that these students are narrow in their outlook and have been so absorbed in their pursuit of knowledge that they have neglected the other phases of school life. Of that type are the prodigies who disappoint the world because they have never taken an active part in the work of the world.

This year the three thus honored are well-rounded individuals who have been active in various lines of school work. Evodia Carlson, valedictorian, is an exceedingly fine student, always prepared and with the type of mind that does much more than merely memorize. She is interested in club affairs and is helpful at all times in the carrying out of necessary activities, whether it be music or typing or cooking. In addition, she was chosen the best all around senior girl.

The salutatorian honors this year are divided. It was impossible to choose which of two were second, so Lois White, who comes to us after three years in Little Falls, and William McClenahan, share the second place. Both of these students are interested in many other phases of school work than just the scholastic. Lois is preparing much of the work for the annual, and is a frequent contributor to the weekly paper. William is editor of the annual, and prominent in dramatics and musical lines. He, too, was selected for the Josten citizenship award as the most valuable senior boy. We hope the future holds many opportunities for service for those three students.

Next in line in senior scholastic honors are the following, who have done consistently good work for four years, and rank highest in the class:

Edith Heald
Hazel Fallquist
Katherine Hagberg
Verona Trask
Dorothy Fox
Helen Bane
Lena Schone
Lucille Caughey
Helen Bakkela
Carl Zapffe

To all of these we offer our congratulations, and trust that their success in high school is a prophecy of what the future has in store for them.

PHYSICS CLASSES TOUR BRAINERD SHOPS WED.

The Northern Pacific shops in Brainerd were visited by the Physics class under the leadership of Mr. La Meter, last Wednesday morning. Mr. McKinley, a foreman in the shops took charge of the group and piloted them through the huge blacksmith shop, the round house, the power plant—in fact all the places of interest that the shops offer to the visitor.

The class is very grateful to Mr. McKinley for assisting them in this tour. Its members feel that they have learned much as a result of their trip.

PLAYERS NEAR FINALS IN ANNUAL TOURNEY

The last of the girls first-round games of tennis were finished Monday, when Dorothy Kinney and Doris Geist played. These sets were the most interesting of any of the former ones, as the girls were about equally matched, but Doris came out on top with the sets 7-5 for Doris, 6-3 for Dorothy, and 7-5 for Doris.

In the semi-finals, Doris Geist defeated Helen Sheets—the sets 6-0 and 6-0, and Alice Nolan beat Helen Bane with the scores 6-2 and 6-1.

The boys tournament is in full swing now, too. Six sets have been played and the rest will probably be finished this week. The results thus far are: Ross Olmsted and Warren Golemboske, 6-2 in favor of Ross. Dickie Ebert and Al Trommald, 6-1 in favor of Al; Gay Kinney and George McCaffrey, 6-0 in favor of George; Zane Smith and John Chadbourne, 6-2 in favor of John; Don Geist and LeRoy Wyett, 6-0 in favor of Don; David Weber and Ralph Anderson, 6-1 in favor of Ralph; and Roger Kleven and Hugh McCaffrey, 6-2 in favor of Roger.

FRENCH CLUB GIVEN MUSICAL SELECTIONS

French club meeting was held last Monday at the City Hall. The meeting did not start on time which is noted as being a French custom. Business was brought up and a financial statement was given which showed that the club was a little ahead, in money matters at least.

Musical selections were given by Kathryn Sheets and Almira Christenson in a duet. Victor Burgoise played a selection on his violin accompanied by Katherine Allbright. Evelyn Fink and Ethel Finne sang a duet with Ethel playing the piano. Mildred Prentice gave two very humorous readings.

After the program the members sang songs and talked after which a light lunch was served which consisted of potato salad, sandwiches, cake and lemonade.

HISTORY STUDENTS TO REPRESENT SENATORS

At the last meeting of the Alhermodhiscle club an entirely new proposition was put up to the students. The president, Stuart Patterson, suggested that the club, at its next meetings act as the United States senate during its special session called by President Hoover for farm relief. The suggestion was put in the form of a motion which was carried unanimously.

Stuart then went farther to say that each student should represent some senator in congress. "You would then" continued Stuart, "be for or against the bill according to the senator you picked and give your arguments accordingly.

This innovation will be carried out in the meetings of the Alhermodhiscle club until the special session ends.

VODVIL IN READINESS FOR SHOWING FRIDAY

This week, on Friday at the U. C. T. hall, the Brainonian benefit will be given—an evening of thorough enjoyment is offered, varied enough to suit every taste. Those who have attended previous exhibitions know that there is always something new in surprises, something different to chuckle over, something more to think about. This year will prove no exception, for the different groups directing the performance have been working hard to get everything in readiness.

Miss Olson and Miss Mathis are preparing a humorous one act play entitled "Sauce for the Goslings," in which Grandma shows up the children.

Mr. La Meter is working hard with Coontown's classiest and cleverest to give the latest in vocal and instrumental effects, and his ebony hued minstrels will keep you shouting.

Mr. Eiden and Miss Tornstrom have a vaudeville program that rivals the artists at the State and Minnesota. You can't afford to miss it. Admission is only 25c and 35c—pay at the door. Come early to avoid the rush. The U. C. T. hall has a limited capacity. Come early to get a seat.

Biology Classes Enjoy Field Trips Last Week

This balmy spring air of the last week has certainly been made use of by the Biology students when each class took a field trip on different days of the week. The trips were taken to enable the students to become familiar with birds, plants and other wild life. They were carried on under Miss Laipple's tutelage. She took the pupils out behind the hospital and along the river bank.

Before starting each student was supplied with pencil and paper and binoculars to the few who had been fortunate enough to obtain them for the trip. The paper and pencil were used to make a note of anything each person saw. Among the things of interest which they noted were a chipping sparrow, cow, gopher along with many grasses and mosses.

In the near future a field trip will be taken by the Biology students to note various birds alone.

W.C.T.U. ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Local judges of the essay contest sponsored by the W. C. T. U. have assigned honors to several members of this high school. First and second awards were given in several classes, and first, second and third awards were bestowed in the other divisions as follows:

Freshmen:
1. Barbara Zapffe.
2. Harold Strickler.
3. Dwight Curo and Clara Grimsted.

Sophomores:
1. Alice Nolan.
2. Jean Cass.

Juniors:
1. Claude Holden.
2. Evelyn Grimsted.
3. Frances Butcher.

Seniors:
1. Edith Heald.
2. Hazel Fallquist.
3. Guy Hawkins.

Each winner received a small financial reward. The four firsts will be sent in to the state department to enter into competition with others from various towns in Minnesota.

MOTHERS' BANQUET PROVES SUCCESS FOR TRI-HI GIRLS

MRS. PATTERSON GIVES ADDRESS ON "RELATION OF MOTHER AND DAUGHTER"

On Thursday evening, April 25th, members of the Tri-Hi served a banquet for their mothers or substitute mothers. The decorations were for the most part blue and gold with bowls of iris serving as center pieces for each table. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Methodist congregation in the parlors of that church. The delicious menu consisted of meat loaf, escalloped potatoes, rutabagas, banana salad, coffee, and apple pie. After the repast the girls each introduced the guest they had brought. Roberta Crawford, president, acted as toastmaster, Louise Clausen gave the welcoming address which was responded to by Mrs. Heald. Two very appropriate piano-logues, "Grandma" and "Dear Little Mother of Mine" were given by Alice Peterson, accompanied by Miss Olson, which were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Carahaw, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of Minneapolis and speaker of the evening could not be there but Mrs. Patterson, of the Presbyterian church, very kindly took her place and gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the "Relation of Mother and Daughter." As the conclusion of the program Dorothy Kinney and Helen Sheets offered a vocal duet entitled "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Chemistry Classes Visit Pump House Tuesday

Since last September Mr. La Meter's chemistry classes have been anticipating several short expeditions to the working plants of this city. Last Tuesday, 17 people from the seventh period class crowded into two cars owned by Clarence Dutkowski and George Weideman and made their first trip to the pump house. Mr. McQuillen's kindnes in showing the students the process of pumping water and forcing it into the city mains was much appreciated. An interesting fact observed was that when the men were working in the reservoirs they were unable to make themselves heard on account of the numerous echoes and were therefore obliged to speak in whispers.

Thursday the same class went to the paper mill where they observed everything from the pulp grinding to the finished product. Several of the girls emerged with treasured souvenirs: Paper Made in Brainerd.

On Friday the fifth period class made the same expedition.

DR. OSGOOD TO GIVE COMMENCEMENT SPEECH

Commencement exercises for the class of 1929 will be held May 31 at the Park theatre with Dr. Philips Osgood, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Minneapolis, as the speaker. Rev. N. P. Olmsted will deliver the Baccalaureate address, Sunday, May 19.

The class of 1929 is composed of 111 members which make this group the second largest in the history of the high school. Officers of this class are:

President—Malcolm Ellison.
Vice President—Carl Zapffe, Jr.
Secretary—Donald Geist.
Treasurer—Katherine Hagberg.

BRAINERD HIGH SCHOOL WEEK BY WEEK

Apologies to O. O. McIntyre

Just a few impressions jotted down. Ross Olmsted rushing the season by going around in shirt sleeves. Seniors who go from the Court House to the City Hall every other period and come back for those in between. The old fashioned "hello" seems to be taking the place of the more handy "Hi". Surprising how many students walk on the sidewalks when asked to keep off the grass. The senior who looks like a freshman, and talks like one. Almost time for those funny little red hats to go out of style, but they still wear them. Four foot freshmen with A averages. What ever becomes of all the books advertised as lost? Physics students running to class in order to get a seat. Loiter and you sit on the floor. What has happened to the Eversharp pencil craze, everybody seems to be using wooden pencils, except me.

MILLER HUGGINS WORRIED, NEEDS A HALF DOZEN HOYTS

YANKEES SEEM FIRMLY LODGED IN THIRD PLACE

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS SEEM SPECIAL BANE OF NEW YORK TEAM

IN 5 GAMES PLAYED WITH THE YOUNG MACKMEN, THE YANKS WON 2

By WILLIAM J. DUNN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 30—Give Miller Huggins a half dozen Waite Hoyts and the worries of the diminutive manager of the New York Yankees will be at an end.

Until a few Yankee pitchers show some Hoytian tendencies, however, Huggins may find a great many high hurdles blocking the road to his fourth straight American league pennant.

The American league season of 1929 is two weeks old today and the champion Yankees, with a record of five victories and four defeats, are lodged in third place instead of being out in front, as so many expected.

To make matters worse, the Yankees are having more than their share of trouble with the Philadelphia Athletics—the one team Babe Ruth and Co., was "sure" of winning from. In five games played with Cornelius MacGillicuddy's youngster the Yanks have won two, both by comparatively lucky breaks, while the A's have pounded Yankee pitchers for a total of 43 hits and 25 runs.

The Yanks can boast a record of two victories in three games with the Boston Red Sox—if losing a game to the Bostonians is anything to boast about. They also hold one win over Washington in the only game played between the teams so far.

And the reason for the deepening furrows on the usually passive brow of Miller Huggins is that he has but one Waite Hoyt on his staff of first string hurlers.

The value of Hoyt can easily be estimated when one considers that he has won three of New York's five New York victories, and is the only pitcher to last nine innings for the Yanks. Hoyt has pitched three full games and allowed a total of 17 hits, an average of less than six blows a game.

The other pitchers have met with uniformly indifferent success.

On top of this one may consider the fact that the famous "murderers row" has totalled only 69 hits—two more than the opposition.

Home Entrance Important.

The entrance should be hospitable and so placed as to help the harmony of the building—not necessarily in the exact center of the front wall, but in harmony with the other features of the house. One too frequently seen fault of modern houses is that the doorways are small. The fine, big doorways of some old-fashioned houses frequently reach well up to the sill of the second-story windows, and seem to extend a hospitable air of welcome to the incoming guest.

Growing City's Needs.

Clean and well-paved streets, handsomely kept parks and boulevards, well-ordered private property, clean skies and pure air will contribute greatly to the growth of the city, and, what is at least as important, to the health, comfort, and pride of the citizen.

Wouldn't Change Troubles

If all our misfortunes were laid in one heap, whence everyone must take an equal portion, most people would be content to take their own and depart.—Socrates.

IS IDEA OF PADDY HARMON CHICAGO MAN

BELIEVES LIBERAL DOSE OF NEW TALENT WILL ENLIVEN INTEREST

AIM IS TO "GET SOME GUYS THAT CAN HIT AND BE TAUGHT TO BOX"

Chicago, April 30—(UP)—Paddy Harmon is planning to go to the "bushes" after the next heavyweight champion.

Believing that a liberal dose of new talent will enliven heavyweight interest, the Chicago stadium promoter has hit upon a novel plan for getting "some guys that can hit and be taught to box."

"I'm planning to run a tournament, the only requirement of which will be that the entry weigh more than 175 pounds," Harmon said. "The more entries the better and I believe that an affair of this type will bring out at least half a dozen heavyweight comers."

The promoter plans to offer a $25,000 first place prize, with other awards ranging down to $50.

"It's true we wouldn't get any finished boxers, but we'd get some boys that could sock and its generally the socker who gets some place. I think there are scores of fellows out in the bushes who would like to get into the fight game but don't know how to go about it.

"Will the tournament pay? Theres no criterion go to by and anyway the idea is to develop some good fighters but I'm willing to bet we'd pack 'em in at popular prices.

"We had an attendance of 16,000 at the National Amateur tournament and many of those folks are amateur fans because they know the boys fight for blood nd are in there every second.

"The tournament, of course, would be mostly a slam bang affair, with hitting the feature, but a good hitter can be taught to box well enough to get by."

Harmon would run the tournament in the regular style with one loss eliminating the entrant. The loser would be paid according to the progress he made in the meet.

LOU GEHRIG PASTES OUT HIS THIRD HOMER

Yankee Stadium, New York, April 30.—(UP)—Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman and friendly rival of Babe Ruth for American league home run honors, joined the list of those who have hit three homers when he scored a circuit blow in the third inning of today's game with the Washington Senators. Ruth so far has made only two homers.

Braxton was pitching for Washington when Gehrig hit his home run, scoring two Yankees ahead of him.

JONES' BOYS NOSE OUT ALDERMAN-MAGHANS 6 TO 5

GAME GOES 2 EXTRA INNINGS; FOSTER GOES ENTIRE ROUTE FOR WINNERS

CANDY KIDS BREAK ICE IN THE FIRST INNING, TALLYING FOUR RUNS

It took the Paul M. Jones diamondball team two extra frames to conquer the Alderman-Maghan "Nail-Drivers" last night, the game going seven innings with the Candy Kids coming out on the long end of a 6 to 5 count. Alderman-Maghan fought an uphill battle to tie the score in the fifth inning only to lose out in the seventh.

Foster pitched the entire route for the winners, allowing eight hits, including two home runs by Pratt and Bergstrand. He struck out 13 men and passed three. Spandel started for the Nail-Drivers and his offerings were peppered all over the lot; the "P. M. J's." scoring four runs off of his delivery on five hits and a pass. At this point Hagberg took the mound and pitched a very creditable game, allowing two runs and five hits.

The Candy Kids broke the ice in the first inning and tallied four runs. Rafidol walked, Foster and Gabiou came through with successive singles, filling the bases, then Grenier got "life" on an error and two men scored on the play. Lammon singled and then Hautala cleaned the paths with a double. The Nail-Drivers put their first run across in the last half of the first when DeRocher hit for three bases and scored when Trask reached first on an error. Alderman-Maghan added another counter in the second when Pratt hit a homer. They tallied again in the third when Trask tripled and scored on Hanson's single. The Nail-Drivers continued their one run an inning scoring and chalked up their fourth marker when Orth walked and counted on Pratt's single. In the fifth inning the Nail-Drivers resumed the lead when Bergstrand hit a home run. In the last half of the fifth after two men were retired the "Kids" showed their fighting spirit and tied the score when Erickson sent a single to centerfield and counted on Foster's timely two-bagger. Neither team scored in the sixth frame. Paul M. Jones won the game in the last half of the seventh after two were down. Erickson hit a double and then Rafidol came through with another double to score the winning counter.

Tomorrow night the outstanding game of the week will be played when the Sinclair Oil Co. will clash with the Bye Clothing Co. The "Oilers" will attempt to preserve their perfect record of five straight victories while Bye Clothing will put forth their best efforts to win in order that they may stay in running for the championship.

Werner will pitch for the Oilers and Hively will receive. Ericsson and Flaata will take care of the battery duty for the "Byers."

Watching the Scoreboard

(By United Press)

Yesterday's Hero—Mickey Cochrane, peppery Philadelphia catcher, who tripled with the bases loaded and then stole home in the eighth inning, to count four of the runs the Athletics employed in defeating the New York Yankees, 10 to 1, at Philadelphia. The ambitious A's stepped all over the theory that the Yanks were a "jinx" to them, to win their third victory out of five games with the New Yorkers. Walberg, after yielding a run in the first inning, settled down and held the Yanks scoreless for eight frames, with six hits.

The St. Louis Browns continued to lead the western teams in the American league by defeating the Detroit Tigers, 3 to 2, at Detroit. The game was a pitching duel between Gray and Sorrell, both yielding nine hits.

The Chicago White Sox clouted out a 13 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Chicago, Ted Lyons pitching for the winners. The Indians totaled 13 hits off Lyons but were unable to bunch them with great success.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored four runs in the last of the eighth at St. Louis to break a tie and win from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 3.

Charlie Root held Cincinnati to 9 hits and the Chicago Cubs trounced the Reds, 4 to 3, at Cincinnati.

MILLER HUGGINS WORRIED, NEEDS A HALF DOZEN HOYTS

YANKEES SEEM FIRMLY LODGED IN THIRD PLACE

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS SEEM SPECIAL BANE OF NEW YORK TEAM

IN 5 GAMES PLAYED WITH THE YOUNG MACKMEN, THE YANKS WON 2

By WILLIAM J. DUNN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 30—Give Miller Huggins a half dozen Waite Hoyts and the worries of the diminutive manager of the New York Yankees will be at an end.

Until a few Yankee pitchers show some Hoytian tendencies, however, Huggins may find a great many high hurdles blocking the road to his fourth straight American league pennant.

The American league season of 1929 is two weeks old today and the champion Yankees, with a record of five victories and four defeats, are lodged in third place instead of being out in front, as so many expected.

To make matters worse, the Yankees are having more than their share of trouble with the Philadelphia Athletics—the one team Babe Ruth and Co., was "sure" of winning from. In five games played with Cornelius MacGillicuddy's youngster the Yanks have won two, both by comparatively lucky breaks, while the A's have pounded Yankee pitchers for a total of 43 hits and 25 runs.

The Yanks can boast a record of two victories in three games with the Boston Red Sox—if losing a game to the Bostonians is anything to boast about. They also hold one win over Washington in the only game played between the teams so far.

And the reason for the deepening furrows on the usually passive brow of Miller Huggins is that he has but one Waite Hoyt on his staff of first string hurlers.

The value of Hoyt can easily be estimated when one considers that he has won three of New York's five New York victories, and is the only pitcher to last nine innings for the Yanks. Hoyt has pitched three full games and allowed a total of 17 hits, an average of less than six blows a game.

The other pitchers have met with uniformly indifferent success.

On top of this one may consider the fact that the famous "murderers row" has totalled only 69 hits—two more than the opposition.

Home Entrance Important.

The entrance should be hospitable and so placed as to help the harmony of the building—not necessarily in the exact center of the front wall, but in harmony with the other features of the house. One too frequently seen fault of modern houses is that the doorways are small. The fine, big doorways of some old-fashioned houses frequently reach well up to the sill of the second-story windows, and seem to extend a hospitable air of welcome to the incoming guest.

Growing City's Needs.

Clean and well-paved streets, handsomely kept parks and boulevards, well-ordered private property, clean skies and pure air will contribute greatly to the growth of the city, and, what is at least as important, to the health, comfort, and pride of the citizen.

Wouldn't Change Troubles

If all our misfortunes were laid in one heap, whence everyone must take an equal portion, most people would be content to take their own and depart.—Socrates.

IS IDEA OF PADDY HARMON CHICAGO MAN

BELIEVES LIBERAL DOSE OF NEW TALENT WILL ENLIVEN INTEREST

AIM IS TO "GET SOME GUYS THAT CAN HIT AND BE TAUGHT TO BOX"

Chicago, April 30—(UP)—Paddy Harmon is planning to go to the "bushes" after the next heavyweight champion.

Believing that a liberal dose of new talent will enliven heavyweight interest, the Chicago stadium promoter has hit upon a novel plan for getting "some guys that can hit and be taught to box."

"I'm planning to run a tournament, the only requirement of which will be that the entry weigh more than 175 pounds," Harmon said. "The more entries the better and I believe that an affair of this type will bring out at least half a dozen heavyweight comers."

The promoter plans to offer a $25,000 first place prize, with other awards ranging down to $50.

"It's true we wouldn't get any finished boxers, but we'd get some boys that could sock and its generally the socker who gets some place. I think there are scores of fellows out in the bushes who would like to get into the fight game but don't know how to go about it.

"Will the tournament pay? Theres no criterion go to by and anyway the idea is to develop some good fighters but I'm willing to bet we'd pack 'em in at popular prices.

"We had an attendance of 16,000 at the National Amateur tournament and many of those folks are amateur fans because they know the boys fight for blood nd are in there every second.

"The tournament, of course, would be mostly a slam bang affair, with hitting the feature, but a good hitter can be taught to box well enough to get by."

Harmon would run the tournament in the regular style with one loss eliminating the entrant. The loser would be paid according to the progress he made in the meet.

LOU GEHRIG PASTES OUT HIS THIRD HOMER

Yankee Stadium, New York, April 30.—(UP)—Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman and friendly rival of Babe Ruth for American league home run honors, joined the list of those who have hit three homers when he scored a circuit blow in the third inning of today's game with the Washington Senators. Ruth so far has made only two homers.

Braxton was pitching for Washington when Gehrig hit his home run, scoring two Yankees ahead of him.

JONES' BOYS NOSE OUT ALDERMAN-MAGHANS 6 TO 5

GAME GOES 2 EXTRA INNINGS; FOSTER GOES ENTIRE ROUTE FOR WINNERS

CANDY KIDS BREAK ICE IN THE FIRST INNING, TALLYING FOUR RUNS

It took the Paul M. Jones diamondball team two extra frames to conquer the Alderman-Maghan "Nail-Drivers" last night, the game going seven innings with the Candy Kids coming out on the long end of a 6 to 5 count. Alderman-Maghan fought an uphill battle to tie the score in the fifth inning only to lose out in the seventh.

Foster pitched the entire route for the winners, allowing eight hits, including two home runs by Pratt and Bergstrand. He struck out 13 men and passed three. Spandel started for the Nail-Drivers and his offerings were peppered all over the lot; the "P. M. J's." scoring four runs off of his delivery on five hits and a pass. At this point Hagberg took the mound and pitched a very creditable game, allowing two runs and five hits.

The Candy Kids broke the ice in the first inning and tallied four runs. Rafidol walked, Foster and Gabiou came through with successive singles, filling the bases, then Grenier got "life" on an error and two men scored on the play. Lammon singled and then Hautala cleaned the paths with a double. The Nail-Drivers put their first run across in the last half of the first when DeRocher hit for three bases and scored when Trask reached first on an error. Alderman-Maghan added another counter in the second when Pratt hit a homer. They tallied again in the third when Trask tripled and scored on Hanson's single. The Nail-Drivers continued their one run an inning scoring and chalked up their fourth marker when Orth walked and counted on Pratt's single. In the fifth inning the Nail-Drivers resumed the lead when Bergstrand hit a home run. In the last half of the fifth after two men were retired the "Kids" showed their fighting spirit and tied the score when Erickson sent a single to centerfield and counted on Foster's timely two-bagger. Neither team scored in the sixth frame. Paul M. Jones won the game in the last half of the seventh after two were down. Erickson hit a double and then Rafidol came through with another double to score the winning counter.

Tomorrow night the outstanding game of the week will be played when the Sinclair Oil Co. will clash with the Bye Clothing Co. The "Oilers" will attempt to preserve their perfect record of five straight victories while Bye Clothing will put forth their best efforts to win in order that they may stay in running for the championship.

Werner will pitch for the Oilers and Hively will receive. Ericsson and Flaata will take care of the battery duty for the "Byers."

Watching the Scoreboard

(By United Press)

Yesterday's Hero—Mickey Cochrane, peppery Philadelphia catcher, who tripled with the bases loaded and then stole home in the eighth inning, to count four of the runs the Athletics employed in defeating the New York Yankees, 10 to 1, at Philadelphia. The ambitious A's stepped all over the theory that the Yanks were a "jinx" to them, to win their third victory out of five games with the New Yorkers. Walberg, after yielding a run in the first inning, settled down and held the Yanks scoreless for eight frames, with six hits.

The St. Louis Browns continued to lead the western teams in the American league by defeating the Detroit Tigers, 3 to 2, at Detroit. The game was a pitching duel between Gray and Sorrell, both yielding nine hits.

The Chicago White Sox clouted out a 13 to 4 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Chicago, Ted Lyons pitching for the winners. The Indians totaled 13 hits off Lyons but were unable to bunch them with great success.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored four runs in the last of the eighth at St. Louis to break a tie and win from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 3.

Charlie Root held Cincinnati to 9 hits and the Chicago Cubs trounced the Reds, 4 to 3, at Cincinnati.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

FANCY HOME GARDEN CABBAGES

Quality cabbages as well as quality in other vegetables can best be obtained by growing the vegetables yourself. In this manner you can select seed of the newest and finest introductions. Otherwise you must depend on the staple sorts grown by market gardeners, good but not of the newest and finest type. The finest quality cabbage for home growing to use fresh cut from the garden is the Savoy type. This is not a popular market cabbage because it is not a long keeper like most of the types. It is quite different and altogether distinct in appearance from the common cabbage.

It is a bright dark green in coloring and the leaves are crinkled, giving it an unusually handsome appearance. The heads are solid and of the highest quality, sweet and mild flavored. Plant a row of Savoy cabbage seed now and you can have a supply in late summer and early fall. They require exactly the same treatment as the common cabbage, a good sweet, rich soil with plenty of moisture during their growing period.

They are greatly sped along on their way toward fine heads by an occasional light application of nitrate of soda to be watered in after it is applied.

Set the plants two feet apart in the rows and keep them well cultivated, establishing a dust mulch and keeping the moisture in the soil which the cabbage needs for its best growth. Cabbage worms will come in spite of everything. Arsenical poisons are the most effective but often gardeners fear to use these poisons for fear they will remain on the cabbage and be poisonous when the cabbabe is cooked. This danger is negligible, but there are non-poisonous insecticides which may be used to equally good advantage and all fear of poisoning will thus be obviated. Keep a close watch for the first flight of white butterflies and give the plants a dusting or spraying as soon as they appear. If the poison is ready and waiting on the plants the tiny caterpillars or "worms" will not conduct an earthly career long enough to do any great amount of damage. Try some Savoy cabbages this year. Iron Head is an excellent early sort. Marvin's is a large headed early variety and American the standard main crop Savoy.

Inevitably Fine

From its very origin, the new Dodge Brothers Six had to be what it actually is—a value beyond parallel or precedent. It was built with the studied care and uncompromising skill that have made the Dodge Brothers name a symbol for dependability. Walter P. Chrysler endowed it with innumerable refinements and more than a score of mechanical betterments. Outstanding among these is the exclusive Mono-piece Body—one of the most important developments of recent years. By a wide and commanding margin, the new Dodge Brothers Six is the greatest value in Dodge Brothers history.

Royal Residence

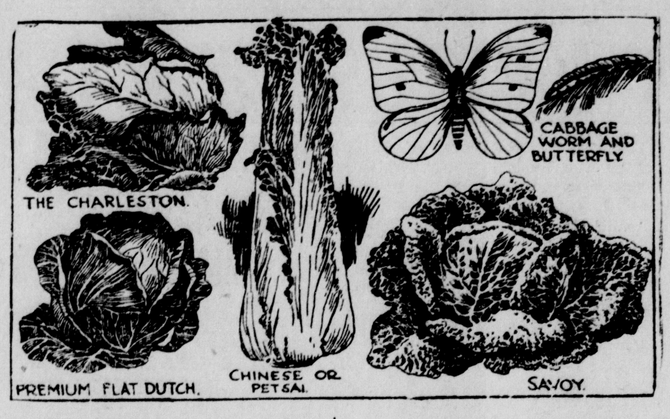

Buckingham palace is situated in London at the west end of St. James park. The building has been many times changed and the present facade is 360 feet in length. The great state rooms are the throne room, 66 feet long; the green room, 50 feet long, 33 feet high; the grand salon, 110 feet long, 60 feet broad; the picture gallery, 180 feet long. There are 40 acres in the garden.

Valuable "Accidents"

Scientific discoveries are often accidental. They are usually made by men trained in the line of scientific invention or observation. Oxygen, discovered by Priestly; calcium carbide by Willson; vulcanization, by Goodyear; X-rays, by Roentgen, and radio activity, by Becherel, fall in this class

FANCY HOME GARDEN CABBAGES

Quality cabbages as well as quality in other vegetables can best be obtained by growing the vegetables yourself. In this manner you can select seed of the newest and finest introductions. Otherwise you must depend on the staple sorts grown by market gardeners, good but not of the newest and finest type. The finest quality cabbage for home growing to use fresh cut from the garden is the Savoy type. This is not a popular market cabbage because it is not a long keeper like most of the types. It is quite different and altogether distinct in appearance from the common cabbage.

It is a bright dark green in coloring and the leaves are crinkled, giving it an unusually handsome appearance. The heads are solid and of the highest quality, sweet and mild flavored. Plant a row of Savoy cabbage seed now and you can have a supply in late summer and early fall. They require exactly the same treatment as the common cabbage, a good sweet, rich soil with plenty of moisture during their growing period.

They are greatly sped along on their way toward fine heads by an occasional light application of nitrate of soda to be watered in after it is applied.

Set the plants two feet apart in the rows and keep them well cultivated, establishing a dust mulch and keeping the moisture in the soil which the cabbage needs for its best growth. Cabbage worms will come in spite of everything. Arsenical poisons are the most effective but often gardeners fear to use these poisons for fear they will remain on the cabbage and be poisonous when the cabbabe is cooked. This danger is negligible, but there are non-poisonous insecticides which may be used to equally good advantage and all fear of poisoning will thus be obviated. Keep a close watch for the first flight of white butterflies and give the plants a dusting or spraying as soon as they appear. If the poison is ready and waiting on the plants the tiny caterpillars or "worms" will not conduct an earthly career long enough to do any great amount of damage. Try some Savoy cabbages this year. Iron Head is an excellent early sort. Marvin's is a large headed early variety and American the standard main crop Savoy.

DISALLOWS CLAIM MADE FOR $2,000

Judge L. B. Kinder Enters Order in Action of McLennan vs. Keating Estate

HEARD IN COURT HERE

Case Climaxes Settlement of $25,000 by Inland Steel to Keating Co.

A. J. McLennan of Duluth who asked $2,000 for services which he claimed he rendered in effecting a $25,000 settlement for the Thomas Keating Co. from the Inland Steel Co. lost his action when Judge L. B. Kinder, Brainerd, after hearing the case entered an order disallowing the claim in full on the ground that insufficient evidence was entered as to services rendered by the claimant.

Circumstances of the Keating-Inland Steel Co. dispute which was settled in 1924 dates back to 1923 when a Crow Wing county jury returned a verdict in favor of the Keating Co. in the amount of $44,618 for failure of the Inland Steel Co. to mine all the lean ores on their property that could be treated and made merchantable. The Minnesota supreme court ordered a new trial. The case was to have been tried again at the May 1924 term but was settled by payment of the mining company for $25,000.

McLennan claimed that he was instrumental in effecting the settlement. The case was heard by Judge Kinder on April 23 and the order returned yesterday.

The claimant was represented by Attorney William Harrison of Duluth and the executors, Marcella Keating and Edward Teitsworth of Minneapolis were represented by the law firm of Ryan, Ryan and Ryan, Brainerd.

Witnesses included: for the claimant, E. G. McPherran, Duluth, Martin Healey, St. Paul; for the defense, Attorney William Crawford, Superior, Marcella Keating.

SOUSA MAKES RADIO DEBUT ON MAY 6

World Famous Conductor and Band to be Heard on Coast to Coast Chain

STARTING AT 8:30 P. M.

Program Sponsored by Chevrolet Motor Co. to Signalize Large Output of Cars

John Philip Sousa and his world famous band will be heard over the radio for the first time on Monday evening, May 6, in an hour broadcast, sponsored by Chevrolet Motor Company to signalize the achievement of placing on the road over a half million new six cylinder cars in four months time.

The radio debut of the famous "March King" will come through the National Broadcasting Company coast to coast chain during the regular General Motors "Family Hour," starting at 8:30 p. m.

According to Lively Auto Co., local Chevrolet dealer, Chevrolet was particularly fortunate in seeking an attraction to emphasize its latest record to secure the first radio performance of this famous director-composer who has been an American institution for the past two decades.

"Naturally, we Chevrolet dealers are proud that our company has been instrumental in introducing Sousa and his band to the microphone," Henry C. Mills said, "we are equally proud, however, of the occasion marked by Sousa's first broadcast. By putting on the road over 500,000 new Chevrolet sixes since January 1, we have established a record never before duplicated by any dealer organization distributing six cylinder automobiles. In fact, no other dealer organization in the history of six cylinder manufacture has ever equally this record in the course of a full year."

Granite City Chapter to Give Banquet and Put on Degree Work

Brainerd Masons in the number of 25 will motor to St. Cloud to attend the banquet and degree work to be put on by the St. Cloud Chapter No. 46, R. A. M. Saturday evening.

The banquet will start at 6:30 o'clock after which a class of 50 will be initiated.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

April 30, 1904

J. F. McGinnis is putting on an addition to his building in the Sleeper block, making each of the two rooms now occupied 30 feet longer.

Alderman Archie Purdy has returned from an extended trip in the southern part of the state where he has been buying horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson of The National, who have been at Hot Springs, Ark., for some time have left the springs and gone to St. Louis where they will attend the World's Fair for a time before returning home.

Supt. Wilson returned today from Pequot. He states that he speared some fine fish last night at Fish Trap and that he did not have to pay cash for meat today.

Miss Louise Zakariasen has gone to Spokane, Wash., where she will visit for a short time.

At a meeting of the fire department last evening an amendment to the constitution was unanimously passed which provides that each company will take care of the fires in their respective wards, so far as it is within the company's power to do so. This plan is on the same basis as fire departments in the larger cities are run on and it is thought it will better systematize matters in Brainerd.

The annual tournament of the Red River Valley Whist club will be held at Mayville, N. D., on May 5 and 6 and Brainerd will be represented by Messrs. F. A. Farrar, H. L. Jones, C. M. Patek and Dr. Walter Courtney. Brainerd made a very good showing last year and the year before and it is expected they will come home with fresh laurels this year.

FAN GETS RADIO RECEPTION FROM SOUTH SEA ISLAND

Bartley V. Eckholm, one of Brainerd's enthusiastic radio fans, had a very interesting experience Sunday evening when he was in direct communication with Papeete, Tahiti, one of the South Sea Islands, a French province, for about half an hour.

Mr. Eckholm's amateur radio station W9EGN, 509 16th street S. E., was in communication with station OOBAM run by Georges Bambridge who sent a number of radiograms through this station to his friends in New York. He stated at the time they were in communication, there were only nine people on the island besides himself, that the weather was nice and warm and the sun was shining.

Mr. Eckholm has been broadcasting for years, in fact, he was one of the first in Brainerd to start radio experiments in broadcasting and receiving. He makes his own sets, and during the past few years has been in touch with several countries. This is the first time he has had direct communication with the South Sea Islands, he said. The messages came in clear and strong for a half hour, and then faded away.

35 RURAL SCHOOLS GO ON VACATION

Eight Month Year Schools in Country Close Friday; 600 Students Start Holidays

51 SCHOOLS CONTINUE

Nine Month Year Schools Effecting 1,400 Students Hold Classes Another Month

Approximately 600 students in 35 rural schools in the county have started their summer vacations. These students are of the eight months. None of the districts voted the summer last Friday.

Fifty one other ungraded elementary schools housing approximately 1,400 students will continue for another month before vacation, Irma Camp Hartley, superintendent of county schools announced today.

FIVE 'WIVES' TO TESTIFY AGAINST CHARLES W. CHICK

Lynn, Mass., April 29.—(U.P.)—Five "wives" are expected to testify against Charles W. Chick, 35, who claims to be a former chief engineer in the navy, when he goes on trial for polygamy.

The man, described by one of his "wives" as the "prince of all lovers," was held under $5,000 bond in a police cell here today while authorities probed further into his matrimonial record. They said they had information indicating there might be more "Mrs. Chicks."

The wives listed by police are as follows:

No. 1—Mrs. Rose (Keene) Chick, Biddeford, Me.

No. 2—Mrs. Laura (Anderson) Chick, Biddeford, Me.

No. 3—A woman whose name was withheld by police.

No. 4—Mrs. Hilda (Wizard) Chick, Kitterly, Me.

No. 5—Mrs. Ethel (Leyshon) Chick, Lynn.

Chick was arrested as a result of a non-support complaint lodged by wife No. 5, who is living with her mother here.

SWEDISH GLEE CLUB IN CONCERT

Proceeds to Finance Participation at District Convention in Duluth

E. O. ANDERSON DIRECTOR

Concert Given at First Methodist Church, Saturday Evening, May 4

The Swedish Glee club will give a concert Saturday evening, May 4 at the First Methodist church. The proceeds from the concert will go to finance their participation in the district convention which will be held in Duluth June 23 and 24. There will be about 400 singers taking part in the program at the convention, and about 5,000 are expected to attend. A special feature at the convention this year will be Miss Lena Gustafson, soloist, from New York. The local club has also been asked to give a special number.

The Swedish Glee clubs association is a national organization. The Brainerd club was organized about ten years ago under the direction of E. O. Anderson. Mr. Anderson directed a mixed choir in Sweden, and was also an organist there.

The advance sale of tickets for the concert on Saturday has been very good it is reported, and a record gathering is expected.

CAR OWNERS TAKE TAX INCREASE CALMLY

Gas station operators prepared today to do business on a new scale tomorrow with the increasing of the gasoline tax one cent a gallon effective at midnight tonight.

Low test gas will sell for 20.1 cents a gallon and high test will go at 23.1 cents a gallon under the new order.

Sales in gas went on as usual today in Brainerd with car owners little excited over the increase which takes effect tomorrow.

The common expression was "Humph, gas is up pretty high again."

Brainerd Ladies Band to Fill Engagement Next Sunday at Verndale

The Brainerd Ladies Band, Winnifred Crank Ziebell conductress, will fill its first out of the city concert next Sunday afternoon, May 5 at Verndale, Minn., starting at 3 o'clock.

The band has been engaged for several weeks in preparation for a busy season. The members will appear this year in striking new uniforms.

Brainerd will have an opportunity to see and hear the enlarged band on parade Decoration Day.

2-MAN ARBITRATION COMMITTEE TO TAKE UP I'M ALONE CASE

Washington, April 30.—(U.P.)—Selection of the American representative on the two-man arbitration commission to which the I'm Alone controversy with Canada has been referred may be made this week, the United Press learned today.

From the standpoint of both the United States and Canada, it is believed here appointment of Chief Justice Taft and Chief Justice Anglin of the respective supreme courts would be the ideal combination. Their selection is understood to be likely provided they are willing to serve.

NEW FINANCE PLAN PLEASES PURCHASERS

Brainerd purchasers of the new Ford cars and purchasers in all the other communities included in the territory covered by the Twin City Branch of Ford Motor Company, may now have their time payments financed through a specialized financial institution, the Universal Credit Company, formed by the Ford Motor Company to provide a uniform time purchase plan throughout the United States. Under this plan Ford owners may buy their cars on time at lowest cost commensurate with sound business policy.

The Twin City Branch of Universal Credit Company is located on the fourth floor of Baker Arcade Building, Minneapolis.

Twin City officials of the new company stated today that extremely low cost was one of the important features of the credit plan. They also stated that the plan contemplates the purchase by Universal Credit Company of sound and adequate fire and theft insurance protecting the joint interests of the purchaser, the dealer and the company in the car. The purchaser will receive a policy of standard form insurance providing protection for one year. Such policies are issued by the Home Insurance Company of New York, the largest in the United States. The policies provide for settlement based on the actual cash value of the car at time of loss.

The establishment of the Universal Company plan already has created national interest on the part of Ford dealers and purchasers.

The steady increase of production of Model A toward 7,000 daily, opens to the new company the national finance field.

The Ford purchaser is keenly interested because the plan gives him a distinct advantage both in low cost and adequate, sound insurance. In the latter respect the joint interests of the purchaser and the dealer are protected.

The Universal Credit Company's low finance charge is equivalent to a price reduction on the Model A and all other Ford products. Sales increase in proportion to price and the lower time delivery price opens a bigger field of prospects. Since Universal Credit Company's rate at the outset is a large factor in reducing finance costs, it is obvious that increasing support will put the company in a position where it in turn can be of the greatest sales help to dealers.

Executives of Universal Credit Company have all had long experience either with the Ford Motor Company or with specialized financial institutions. Ernest Kanzler, president, was a vice president of the Ford Motor Company until August 1926 and since a vice president of the Guardian Detroit bank. The other officers of the company are:

G. H. Zimmerman, vice president, who has been intimately connected with the finance business since 1916 and for seven years with General Motors Acceptance Corporation. Previous to his present connection, G. H. Zimmerman was vice president of the Commercial Credit Company of Baltimore. B. J. Craig, secretary and treasurer of the Universal Credit Company, is the secretary and assistant treasurer of the Ford Motor Company.

American WATCHES have set a new note in Watch STYLES!

Quietly and unostentatiously, American watch manufacturers have, in the last two years, revolutionized the mode in watch designs. Drawing from the finest minds in Paris and this country, they have introduced novelties in case designs that are as practical as they are lovely. To see them is to fall in love with them at once . . . for never have more exquisite gems of timekeeping been produced in this or any other country. And yet, thin and dainty as they are, inside there is the sturdy accuracy and lifelong service that has made American watches the world's watch-word. See the new modes at this store.

BOB WHITE Chicken Feeds

For Developing Baby Chicks Into Healthy, Egg-Producing Mothers

No need that "half the baby chicks hatched annually" should die. It's simply due to carelessness in care and feeding.

Chicken babies, like human babies, are born hungry and—if fed the proper food during the first few weeks—would live and thrive.

BOB WHITE Chick Starting Mash contains dried buttermilk and 1% of Pure Cod Liver Oil—which long experience proves to be exactly what they need. It's so easily digested and nourishing, and complete instructions for correct feeding are packed in every bag of Baby Chick Mash or Feed.

All BOB WHITE Poultry Mashes contain this same percentage of pure Cod Liver Oil because all chickens require it.

There's a BOB WHITE feed for every chicken stage and every chicken purpose that will pay big dividends if you use them.

Drop in soon and let us tell you more about all the BOB WHITE Feeds.

DISALLOWS CLAIM MADE FOR $2,000

Judge L. B. Kinder Enters Order in Action of McLennan vs. Keating Estate

HEARD IN COURT HERE

Case Climaxes Settlement of $25,000 by Inland Steel to Keating Co.

A. J. McLennan of Duluth who asked $2,000 for services which he claimed he rendered in effecting a $25,000 settlement for the Thomas Keating Co. from the Inland Steel Co. lost his action when Judge L. B. Kinder, Brainerd, after hearing the case entered an order disallowing the claim in full on the ground that insufficient evidence was entered as to services rendered by the claimant.

Circumstances of the Keating-Inland Steel Co. dispute which was settled in 1924 dates back to 1923 when a Crow Wing county jury returned a verdict in favor of the Keating Co. in the amount of $44,618 for failure of the Inland Steel Co. to mine all the lean ores on their property that could be treated and made merchantable. The Minnesota supreme court ordered a new trial. The case was to have been tried again at the May 1924 term but was settled by payment of the mining company for $25,000.

McLennan claimed that he was instrumental in effecting the settlement. The case was heard by Judge Kinder on April 23 and the order returned yesterday.

The claimant was represented by Attorney William Harrison of Duluth and the executors, Marcella Keating and Edward Teitsworth of Minneapolis were represented by the law firm of Ryan, Ryan and Ryan, Brainerd.

Witnesses included: for the claimant, E. G. McPherran, Duluth, Martin Healey, St. Paul; for the defense, Attorney William Crawford, Superior, Marccella Keating.

SOUSA MAKES RADIO DEBUT ON MAY 6

World Famous Conductor and Band to be Heard on Coast to Coast Chain

STARTING AT 8:30 P. M.

Program Sponsored by Chevrolet Motor Co. to Signalize Large Output of Cars

John Philip Sousa and his world famous band will be heard over the radio for the first time on Monday evening, May 6, in an hour broadcast, sponsored by Chevrolet Motor Company to signalize the achievement of placing on the road over a half million new six cylinder cars in four months time.

The radio debut of the famous "March King" will come through the National Broadcasting Company coast to coast chain during the regular General Motors "Family Hour," starting at 8:30 p. m.

According to Lively Auto Co., local Chevrolet dealer, Chevrolet was particularly fortunate in seeking an attraction to emphasize its latest record to secure the first radio performance of this famous director-composer who has been an American institution for the past two decades.

"Naturally, we Chevrolet dealers are proud that our company has been instrumental in introducing Sousa and his band to the microphone," Henry C. Mills said, "we are equally proud, however, of the occasion marked by Sousa's first broadcast. By putting on the road over 500,000 new Chevrolet sixes since January 1, we have established a record never before duplicated by any dealer organization distributing six cylinder automobiles. In fact, no other dealer organization in the history of six cylinder manufacture has ever equally this record in the course of a full year."

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

April 30, 1904

J. F. McGinnis is putting on an addition to his building in the Sleeper block, making each of the two rooms now occupied 30 feet longer.

Alderman Archie Purdy has returned from an extended trip in the southern part of the state where he has been buying horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson of The National, who have been at Hot Springs, Ark., for some time have left the springs and gone to St. Louis where they will attend the World's Fair for a time before returning home.

Supt. Wilson returned today from Pequot. He states that he speared some fine fish last night at Fish Trap and that he did not have to pay cash for meat today.

Miss Louise Zakariasen has gone to Spokane, Wash., where she will visit for a short time.

At a meeting of the fire department last evening an amendment to the constitution was unanimously passed which provides that each company will take care of the fires in their respective wards, so far as it is within the company's power to do so. This plan is on the same basis as fire departments in the larger cities are run on and it is thought it will better systematize matters in Brainerd.

The annual tournament of the Red River Valley Whist club will be held at Mayville, N. D., on May 5 and 6 and Brainerd will be represented by Messrs. F. A. Farrar, H. L. Jones, C. M. Patek and Dr. Walter Courtney. Brainerd made a very good showing last year and the year before and it is expected they will come home with fresh laurels this year.

FAN GETS RADIO RECEPTION FROM SOUTH SEA ISLAND

Bartley V. Eckholm, one of Brainerd's enthusiastic radio fans, had a very interesting experience Sunday evening when he was in direct communication with Papeete, Tahiti, one of the South Sea Islands, a French province, for about half an hour.

Mr. Eckholm's amateur radio station W9EGN, 509 16th street S. E., was in communication with station OOBAM run by Georges Bambridge who sent a number of radiograms through this station to his friends in New York. He stated at the time they were in communication, there were only nine people on the island besides himself, that the weather was nice and warm and the sun was shining.

Mr. Eckholm has been broadcasting for years, in fact, he was one of the first in Brainerd to start radio experiments in broadcasting and receiving. He makes his own sets, and during the past few years has been in touch with several countries. This is the first time he has had direct communication with the South Sea Islands, he said. The messages came in clear and strong for a half hour, and then faded away.

Daphne by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

DAPHNE HAINES, seventeen and lovely, finds life intolerable because of a nagging, jealous stepmother whose main aim is to promote a courtship between her own daughter, Crystal, and wealthy, attractive Ralph McKevitt. Catching a fleeting glimpse of Daphne, the "prize" young man admires her. Mrs. Haines, fearing the rivalry of the younger girl, schemes to eliminate her from the scene. Daphne dismayed when she realizes how completely these two calculating women have her father in their power, comforts herself by spinning secret dreams of a day when someone will really love her—a man, big, powerful, handsome, like Ralph! A sordid quarrel is provoked between Haines and his wife because of the woman's reckless expenditures. Subtly Mrs. Haines draws Daphne into the brawl. Feeling the hopelessness of her situation, Daphne determines to make her own way in the world, and leaves for San Francisco. With twenty dollars capital she seeks employment and learns it is hard to find.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE late afternoon sun shone full on Daphne's face. It shone on her clear white skin with the faint line of freckles over the bridge of her nose. It deepened the dark circles under the wide gray eyes, betrayed the tremulous weariness in her lovely, unpainted mouth.

Mr. Gartz fingered his watch charm, a large elk's tooth mounted in gold, and his pale tongue came out and licked his lips.

"About the position," she began. "I was going by, so I thought I would come in again. You said that perhaps—that you might—"

"Well, maybe I could use someone," he said, "if we could suit each other."

"I'm really a good stenographer,' she broke in eagerly, "and I know I can take care of your books!"

He pulled his chair a little nearer. "But do you think you can take care of me?" His pale lips were smiling, showing stained yellow teeth.

A bell rang outside. There was the sound of hurrying feet, laughter. The millinery hands were going home. The girl with the black satin dress passed the glass door, struggling into a soiled white coat as she ran. A thickset man with his hat on the back of his head and a black cigar in his teeth, opened the door a crack.

"G'night, Gartz!"

"G'night, Fred!"

"Sit down, baby," Gartz said to Daphne, who had risen. "You mustn't mind an old fellow like me, having a little joke. Now we can talk nice. I got a nice position here for a good girl. Thirty a week. How does that sound?"

Thirty a week! If she had thirty dollars a week . . . "Oh, that would be wonderful!" she cried, forgetting her fears.

"Sure," he went on, smiling at her benevolently. "I know how much a girl needs to get along when she ain't living home. You told me you was away from your folks, didn't you?"

She nodded.

"Yeh, thirty a week, that's what I pay, and if you need a little extra sometimes, you know where to come. I like to treat everybody right. Nobody ever said Harvey Gartz was stingy. I got a brother in the ladies' silk lingerie line—a few samples now and then. And hats! Say—I got a line of fancy felts—come out and see. You pick out one you like—"

"But—" Daphne began, "but—"

He brushed aside her shyness with a large, fatherly gesture. "No ceremony. Come, I want to show you my French felt with the ribbon fancy. It would look good on you in purple."

He led the way and she followed hanging behind, not knowing what to do. He was middle-aged, and he looked so kind . . . and still . . .

"Here, you put on the purple one yourself. A little more to the right, over the eyes. Maybe I could use you for a model sometime. Look up at me—so!"

She looked up—just in time to dodge his pale lips and shield her face with her hands. She felt his kiss, wet and loathesome on her neck.

"How could you!" she cried angrily, "how could you do such a thing?" Her strong, slender hand shot out, but he drew back quickly, more agile than seemed possible for one of his weight and years.

"See here," he panted, "is that any way to act? When I offer you honest work, that you should hit at me like a hussy? Do you want to get arrested?" He reached for her again, but she ducked and ran, knocked over a chair, found the door somehow, and the stairs. She had gained the street and walked a block in the cool life-giving air before she remembered the little red purse . . . she had left it on Gartz' desk

Her last five dollars was in it, there was no choice, she had to go back.

The wizened elevator man was still there. "Would you mind going up to the fifth floor and getting a red purse I left by mistake in Mr. Gartz' office?"

Regularly she took her old seat in the employment office.

"I'll take you up, and you get it," he suggested. "I don't like foolin' around strange purses—"

"No—oh please—please get it for me. I'll give you fifty cents if you will—"

"Well—" he agreed without enthusiasm.

Daphne waited. There was the squeaking and jangling of the elevator, the bang of doors opening and closing upstairs. The sickly smell of the refuse from the market came through the openwork iron door from the elevator shaft, nausating her. She waited in an agony of suspense and loathing.

After a while the car came back, the little old man shook his head. "Everybody's gone," he said. "I can't get in. The janitor could mebbe, but he wouldn't let nobody take nuthin' out—"

"I'll come back in the morning at eight," she said. "Will you be here then?"

He nodded. "S'long."

She had no money for dinner, and no carfare. "Well, I don't feel like eating anyway," she thought philosophically, "and the walk will do me good . . . oh, wasn't I the fool to go back there for the job—I knew he was horrid—I just knew it——"

It was pleasant walking in the cool of the early evening. At least the first half hour of it was pleasant. But it was such a long walk, up and down so many hills, and the pavement was so hard . . .

It was half-past seven when she dragged herself up the front stairs, and groped her way down the dark hall to her room.

She flung herself on the couch to rest a moment, and woke at dawn, her best dress rumpled, her head throbbing, her body stiff with cold.

She thought of borrowing five cents from Mrs. Hinckle or one of the roomers, but no one was astir but the old lady, sipping her coffee at the kitchen table, and she sighed heavily as Daphne entered . . . "Ach—Gott!" She did not look up. Her wrinkled old face looked stern and sad. What if she didn't have the money either? What if there wouldn't be the money to pay her for next month's rent . . .

Daphne tiptoed back to her room, put on her hat and coat and began the long walk downtown. Twice automobiles stopped and men called to her, "Want to ride?"

They looked kindly and gentlemanly enough. But so did Gartz! Daphne was taking no more chances. She walked doggedly on.

The little elevator man was waiting with the purse when she reached the building. "I thought you was going to be here at eight!"

"I guess I'm late," Dophne murmured. "Thank you so much."

"Well — say — I thought you promised——" he began in a querulous, cracked voice, full of disappointment.

"Oh—of course!" Daphne remembered the fifty cents she had promised. With a smile for the little old fellow she reached in the purse. "Why—why——" she faltered.

"Is anthin' wrong?" he asked anxiously.

"Let me—sit down——" she whispered, feeling her knees give way beneath her. He gave her his stool in the elevator and watched her with growing concern.

"Say, you're sick!" he decided.

"No—no—not sick——"

"Well, then—you've lost some money out of that there purse. Say—ef you think if I took anythin'—" He bristled with outraged pride.

"Oh, no, no—" She laughed through the tears that she couldn't wink away. "Of course not—here!" She handed him the fifty cents she had promised.

"Thanky." He beamed on her. "That's real nice of you. Money don't come too easy 'round here."

"No," she smiled back, "it doesn't."

"Good-bye!" he called after her. "Take care of yerself!"

She was still smiling, a little crooked smile, when she found her old seat in the employment office.

"You have a hole in your stocking!" the girl next to her volunteered.

Daphne looked down at it without much interest. "It doesn't matter," she said.

Nothing mattered very much. Her five dollars was gone. She discovered the loss when she gave the elevator man the promised half dollar. The red purse held five cents now. Five cents and two postage stamps and a powder puff.

CHILD MISSING IN LAKE

Johnnie Buchert, 5 (inset), is believed to have fallen in the lake at Chicago and police are dragging the lake to find him. His family, hoping against hope that he is only lost some place, are seen above—Mrs. Buchert, Anna, 9, just recovering from a broken leg, and John Buchert, Sr.

Some Pep Left

After setting a new women's endurance flight record of 26 hrs., 21 mins. and 32 secs., Elinor Smith of Freeport, L. I., had just enough strength left to wave gayly to her friends at Roosevelt Field when she landed.

Daphne by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

DAPHNE HAINES, seventeen and lovely, finds life intolerable because of a nagging, jealous stepmother whose main aim is to promote a courtship between her own daughter, Crystal, and wealthy, attractive Ralph McKevitt. Catching a fleeting glimpse of Daphne, the "prize" young man admires her. Mrs. Haines, fearing the rivalry of the younger girl, schemes to eliminate her from the scene. Daphne dismayed when she realizes how completely these two calculating women have her father in their power, comforts herself by spinning secret dreams of a day when someone will really love her—a man, big, powerful, handsome, like Ralph! A sordid quarrel is provoked between Haines and his wife because of the woman's reckless expenditures. Subtly Mrs. Haines draws Daphne into the brawl. Feeling the hopelessness of her situation, Daphne determines to make her own way in the world, and leaves for San Francisco. With twenty dollars capital she seeks employment and learns it is hard to find.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE late afternoon sun shone full on Daphne's face. It shone on her clear white skin with the faint line of freckles over the bridge of her nose. It deepened the dark circles under the wide gray eyes, betrayed the tremulous weariness in her lovely, unpainted mouth.

Mr. Gartz fingered his watch charm, a large elk's tooth mounted in gold, and his pale tongue came out and licked his lips.

"About the position," she began. "I was going by, so I thought I would come in again. You said that perhaps—that you might—"

"Well, maybe I could use someone," he said, "if we could suit each other."

"I'm really a good stenographer,' she broke in eagerly, "and I know I can take care of your books!"

He pulled his chair a little nearer. "But do you think you can take care of me?" His pale lips were smiling, showing stained yellow teeth.

A bell rang outside. There was the sound of hurrying feet, laughter. The millinery hands were going home. The girl with the black satin dress passed the glass door, struggling into a soiled white coat as she ran. A thickset man with his hat on the back of his head and a black cigar in his teeth, opened the door a crack.

"G'night, Gartz!"

"G'night, Fred!"

"Sit down, baby," Gartz said to Daphne, who had risen. "You mustn't mind an old fellow like me, having a little joke. Now we can talk nice. I got a nice position here for a good girl. Thirty a week. How does that sound?"

Thirty a week! If she had thirty dollars a week . . . "Oh, that would be wonderful!" she cried, forgetting her fears.

"Sure," he went on, smiling at her benevolently. "I know how much a girl needs to get along when she ain't living home. You told me you was away from your folks, didn't you?"

She nodded.

"Yeh, thirty a week, that's what I pay, and if you need a little extra sometimes, you know where to come. I like to treat everybody right. Nobody ever said Harvey Gartz was stingy. I got a brother in the ladies' silk lingerie line—a few samples now and then. And hats! Say—I got a line of fancy felts—come out and see. You pick out one you like—"

"But—" Daphne began, "but—"

He brushed aside her shyness with a large, fatherly gesture. "No ceremony. Come, I want to show you my French felt with the ribbon fancy. It would look good on you in purple."

He led the way and she followed, hanging behind, not knowing what to do. He was middle-aged, and he looked so kind . . . and still . . .

"Here, you put on the purple one yourself. A little more to the right, over the eyes. Maybe I could use you for a model sometime. Look up at me—so!"

She looked up—just in time to dodge his pale lips and shield her face with her hands. She felt his kiss, wet and loathesome on her neck.

"How could you!" she cried angrily, "how could you do such a thing?" Her strong, slender hand shot out, but he drew back quickly, more agile than seemed possible for one of his weight and years.

"See here," he panted, "is that any way to act? When I offer you honest work, that you should hit at me like a hussy? Do you want to get arrested?" He reached for her again, but she ducked and ran, knocked over a chair, found the door somehow, and the stairs. She had gained the street and walked a block in the cool life-giving air before she remembered the little red purse . . . she had left it on Gartz' desk

Her last five dollars was in it, there was no choice, she had to go back.

The wizened elevator man was still there. "Would you mind going up to the fifth floor and getting a red purse I left by mistake in Mr. Gartz' office?"

"I'll take you up, and you get it," he suggested. "I don't like foolin' around strange purses—"

"No—oh please—please get it for me. I'll give you fifty cents if you will—"

"Well—" he agreed without enthusiasm.

Daphne waited. There was the squeaking and jangling of the elevator, the bang of doors opening and closing upstairs. The sickly smell of the refuse from the market came through the openwork iron door from the elevator shaft, nausating her. She waited in an agony of suspense and loathing.

After a while the car came back, the little old man shook his head. "Everybody's gone," he said. "I can't get in. The janitor could mebbe, but he wouldn't let nobody take nuthin' out—"

"I'll come back in the morning at eight," she said. "Will you be here then?"

He nodded. "S'long."

She had no money for dinner, and no carfare. "Well, I don't feel like eating anyway," she thought philosophically, "and the walk will do me good . . . oh, wasn't I the fool to go back there for the job—I knew he was horrid—I just knew it——"

It was pleasant walking in the cool of the early evening. At least the first half hour of it was pleasant. But it was such a long walk, up and down so many hills, and the pavement was so hard . . .

It was half-past seven when she dragged herself up the front stairs, and groped her way down the dark hall to her room.

She flung herself on the couch to rest a moment, and woke at dawn, her best dress rumpled, her head throbbing, her body stiff with cold.

She thought of borrowing five cents from Mrs. Hinckle or one of the roomers, but no one was astir but the old lady, sipping her coffee at the kitchen table, and she sighed heavily as Daphne entered . . . "Ach—Gott!" She did not look up. Her wrinkled old face looked stern and sad. What if she didn't have the money either? What if there wouldn't be the money to pay her for next month's rent . . .

Daphne tiptoed back to her room, put on her hat and coat and began the long walk downtown. Twice automobiles stopped and men called to her, "Want to ride?"

They looked kindly and gentlemanly enough. But so did Gartz! Daphne was taking no more chances. She walked doggedly on.

The little elevator man was waiting with the purse when she reached the building. "I thought you was going to be here at eight!"

"I guess I'm late," Dophne murmured. "Thank you so much."

"Well — say — I thought you promised——" he began in a querulous, cracked voice, full of disappointment.

"Oh—of course!" Daphne remembered the fifty cents she had promised. With a smile for the little old fellow she reached in the purse. "Why—why——" she faltered.

"Is anthin' wrong?" he asked anxiously.

"Let me—sit down——" she whispered, feeling her knees give way beneath her. He gave her his stool in the elevator and watched her with growing concern.

"Say, you're sick!" he decided.

"No—no—not sick——"

"Well, then—you've lost some money out of that there purse. Say—ef you think if I took anythin'—" He bristled with outraged pride.

"Oh, no, no—" She laughed through the tears that she couldn't wink away. "Of course not—here!" She handed him the fifty cents she had promised.

"Thanky." He beamed on her. "That's real nice of you. Money don't come too easy 'round here."

"No," she smiled back, "it doesn't."

"Good-bye!" he called after her. "Take care of yerself!"

She was still smiling, a little crooked smile, when she found her old seat in the employment office.

"You have a hole in your stocking!" the girl next to her volunteered.

Daphne looked down at it without much interest. "It doesn't matter," she said.

Nothing mattered very much. Her five dollars was gone. She discovered the loss when she gave the elevator man the promised half dollar. The red purse held five cents now. Five cents and two postage stamps and a powder puff.

CHILD MISSING IN LAKE

Johnnie Buchert, 5 (inset), is believed to have fallen in the lake at Chicago and police are dragging the lake to find him. His family, hoping against hope that he is only lost some place, are seen above—Mrs. Buchert, Anna, 9, just recovering from a broken leg, and John Buchert, Sr.

Some Pep Left

After setting a new women's endurance flight record of 26 hrs., 21 mins. and 32 secs., Elinor Smith of Freeport, L. I., had just enough strength left to wave gayly to her friends at Roosevelt Field when she landed.
